

LABOR WARNED BY PRESIDENT AGAINST MAKING TOO GREAT PAY DEMANDS ON EMPLOYERS

Chief Executive Makes Vigorous Broadcast Appeal For Industrial Peace and Prosperity, Says Higher Pay is Needed

EASES ORDER ON CONTROLS OF INCREASES

Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—President Truman, who last night devoted reasonable wage increases without major price changes, declined today to suggest a percentage by which he thought wages should be boosted.

He told a news conference that the amount of increases would have to be determined in each individual case.

That is why it has to be done by collective bargaining, the president told reporters who questioned him about his radio address last night in which he laid down his post-war wage-price policy. It calls for two things.

Division Of Jap Fleet Is Decided Upon

Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—Secretary of State Byrnes announced today that Russia, Britain and the United States in a division of that part of the Japanese fleet which is destroyed.

The vessels to be divided include 10 destroyers and an undisclosed number of small coastal defense ships of 800 to 900 tons.

Those to be destroyed—Byrnes spoke of scuttling them—are a battleship, four aircraft carriers, four cruisers, of which three are damaged, and 51 submarines.

Asked at a news conference whether the method of scuttling would allow a test to determine effectiveness of atomic bombs on naval units, Byrnes said he did not know the method to be employed. However, naval sources have indicated such an experiment might be made.

Byrnes said the navy had wanted to destroy most of what was left of the Japanese fleet and put the matter up to the other three powers. They agreed to the arrangements for destroying all the major vessels and dividing the destroyers and lesser ships except the submarines.

ap Trade Unions Resume Activities

Tokyo, Oct. 31.—(P)—Japanese labor, reactivated under American occupation policy, currently has halted and plans to use politics as vehicle of advancement.

The agreement for united action is reached at a meeting of Ko-akichi Matsuo, head of the conservative Japan Trade Union League, and Kanji Kato, head of the left wing National Council Japanese Labor Unions. They will sponsor a meeting Friday to state a Socialist party.

On the occupation front, American counter-espionage officers jailed dozen Nazis, including a number Gestapo members and aides of ex-Melinger, "Butcher of Warsaw," and impounded more than $1 million dollars' worth of life and securities. Most of the rests were made in resort areas where Eighth Army intelligence officers had been watching the Nazis' activities for some time.

Melinger himself was arrested weeks ago. Four of his aides, including his secretary, were among those seized.

Truman Not Thinking About a Second Term

Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—President Truman said today he is given no thought to a possible campaign for a second term.

Asked at a news conference whether he will run again, Mr. Truman replied he did not have to satisfy himself at this time. His response brought laughter from reporters.

The president, more serious, said at the matter of a possible second term had not entered his thoughts—that he had been too busy on other things.

Big Point In Inflation Talk Provides Industry Loophole

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—President Truman, in a couple of paragraphs tucked away in his statement on wages and prices—given American industry a right to raise wages—plus a loophole.

Company after company has asked on unions' demands for pay raises on the grounds that such increase would prevent the companies from making a fair profit. In his wage-price policy statement last night, Mr. Truman affected this industry.

Member Of PUC Dies Of Heart Attack

Williamsport, Oct. 31.—(P)—Ralph W. Thorne, member of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, died today in the Williamsport hospital of an heart attack. He was 47.

Thorne, a native of Williamsport, was stricken while visiting his mother, Mrs. Robert H. Thorne, and died an hour after he was taken to the hospital. Thorne made his home with his mother when he was not in Harrisburg.

He was appointed to the Public Utility Commission on July 12, 1939 by former Governor Arthur H. James for a 10-year term. Before joining the commission, Thorne resigned as Republican chairman of Lycoming county and as a member of the Williamsport school board.

Thorne at that time also retired as president of the Darling Valve and Manufacturing Company, of Williamsport, which his father founded.

Born on Feb. 17, 1898 at Williamsport, Thorne received his education in the Williamsport schools, Mercersburg Academy and Cornell University.

Thorne entered Cornell University in 1917 but a year later enlisted in the naval reserves during World War One. After the war he resumed his studies at Cornell but left in 1921 to become vice president of the Darling concern.

He was advanced to the presidency in 1930 at the death of his father. Thorne also helped organize the Radiant Steel Products Company, of Williamsport, and for a time was its president.

He was a delegate to the Republican national convention in 1940 and an alternate to the 1936 national convention.

Report Is Made By Gen. Eisenhower

By NOLAND NORGARD
Frankfurt, Oct. 31.—(P)—Gen. Eisenhower, expressing disappointment over delays in disposing of important problems in Germany, said today it was "evident that only by the spirit of joint accommodation of views can there be any real success for the Allies' control authority."

In his third monthly report as military governor of the American zone in occupied Germany, Eisenhower said delays during September were caused by the necessity for unanimous four-power consent to all matters under consideration. He declared United States policy has been "to conform wherever possible to decisions on which the other three representatives of the control council and coordinating committee were agreed. He said he hoped this principle "will find greater acceptance."

Already on record as believing 50 years will be required to reeducate Germany, Eisenhower gave an unfavorable report on prospects for early resumption of full governmental powers by the beaten enemy.

BRIDGE CONTRACT TO PITTSBURGH COMPANY

Harrisburg, Oct. 31.—(P)—The State Highways Department awarded a $19,730 contract today to the John F. Casey Company of Pittsburgh, for repairing a pier of a bridge over the Allegheny river at Tidoute.

TOKYO BLACK MARKET RING IS SMASHED

Four American Soldiers, Two Italians and Three Japanese Placed Under Arrest

STEAL ARMY RATIONS

Tokyo, Oct. 31.—(P)—A black market operation said to involve at least $500,000 worth of stolen army rations and clothing has been smashed with the arrest of four American soldiers, two Italian middlemen and three Japanese distributors.

American authorities said the ring had been in operation about three weeks, pouring into black markets ten-in-one rations, sugar and woolen underwear—articles readily usable by Japanese civilians without detection of the source.

Raiding rooms in Marunouchi Hotel, one of the best in Tokyo, provost marshal officers arrested Pts. Robert E. Tucker, (no street address) Louisville, Ky., and Frank S. Bobst, Philadelphia, both transferencees from the European theatre; Staff Sgt. Alexander R. Mintz, whose address was withheld by authorities, and First Sgt. Robert J. Babcock of Harvey, Ill.

While the raid was on, Maj. Gen. C. A. Willoughby, head of General MacArthur's intelligence section, was attending an Italian embassy banquet in the hotel, but he said his presence had no connection with the arrests.

Source of the ring's supply was undetermined, but officers said they were investigating the possibility of bribery of guards and drivers of the 1st Quartermaster Depot, which once was stationed at Marseilles, France.

The officers said the Americans, who were carrying about 70,000 yen ($4,666) when arrested, received $27 for each suit of woolen underwear sold. What the underwear sold for in the black market was unestimated.

The investigation which led to the arrests began when army goods began to appear in large quantities in Japanese stores.

Plan Joint Occupation In The Far East

Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—President Truman said today he expects Russia to participate soon in the Far Eastern advisory commission meeting here to consider Japanese control policy.

The president told a news conference he also had received a very satisfactory reply from Generalissimo Stalin to the letter which American Ambassador Harriman recently delivered to Stalin at his vacation retreat in the Crimea.

He did not disclose the contents of the reply.

Failure of Russia so far to send a representative to the Far Eastern meeting here had constituted a stumbling block in American-Soviet relations. The participating governments met for the first time yesterday, but adjourned immediately for a week evidently to give Russia further opportunity to come in on the sessions.

Russian, Chinese and British Empire troops soon may take their place alongside American forces in the Occupation of Japan.

American officials have been discussing for some weeks the best way to arrange for joint occupation and it is understood that General MacArthur has been kept informed and his views taken into account.

Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—The nation's school children are out to put the $11,000,000,000 Victory Loan over.

In past drives they have written up $1,707,000,000 in sales and this is the way they are working for the Victory Loan today.

In Hackensack, N. J., children will canvass the community with a goal of at least one bond for each of 5,000 school pupils.

Another Weapon the Japs Escaped

(NEA Telephone)
Another highly-secret weapon the Japs barely escaped was the world's largest cannon, pictured above. It is a 36-inch mortar built by Mesta Machine Co., West Homestead, Pa., and was ready for use when the war ended. Essential facts: Barrel length, 38 feet; barrel diameter, 36 inches; weight, 200,000 pounds; hurls two-ton shells six miles at the rate of 12 per hour; maneuverable over highway at speeds up to 75 miles per hour; can be fired from deck of vessel as small as an LST.

Bestial Brutality Is Laid To General Tomoyuki Yamashita

Manila, Oct. 31.—(P)—Mariano Del Rosario, Manila city undertaker, took the stand against Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita today and testified that victims of the erstwhile "Tiger of Malaya's" troops during their orgy of blood last February mounted to the thousands.

Other witnesses already had told in incident after incident how the Japanese troops, when it was certain they could no longer hold the city, had run wild, slaughtering men, women and children alike.

From February 3 to the end of March, Del Rosario testified, he and his burial crews collected and buried more than 8,000 victims, some of them badly mutilated.

The largest incident of the day's presentation of six cases of atrocity was the massacre of St. Paul's College on February 9, where nearly 1,000 civilians were wounded or killed.

Manila, Oct. 31.—(P)—Witnesses at the war criminal trial of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita continued through the third day today their recital of atrocity—slaughter and rape—committed by troops commanded by the one-time "Tiger of Malaya" and supreme Japanese commander of the Philippines.

Seek Formula To End Strike In Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Oct. 31.—(P)—For the second time in a week produce wholesale and members of the AFL-Commission House Drivers and Produce Workers Unions were to hold meetings today to vote on a formula which might end Pittsburgh's five-week produce strike.

The union last Friday rejected a plan which would give its members a raise of $3.50 but which denied the thing which the union said it was striking for—the right to organize hucksters, small merchants and other non-union drivers.

The new formula was arrived at after a meeting between U. S. and state labor conciliators and representatives of the union and of the trade relations committee of the wholesale fruit and produce (Turn to Page Nine)

Martin Demands Dem Retraction

Harrisburg, Oct. 31.—(P)—Governor Martin called today for "immediate and public retraction" of three western Pennsylvania Democrats of charges that state police investigating Pittsburgh voter registration took orders from and reported to Allegheny County Republican Chairman James F. Malone.

Martin said Col. C. M. Wilhelm, state police commissioner, probed the allegations made by Allegheny County Commission Chairman John Kane, and State Senators Joseph Barr (D-Allegheny) and John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland) and had this report from him:

"I met with Commissioner Kane and Senators Barr and Dent but all three disclaimed any personal knowledge of the alleged misconduct. Senators Barr and Dent refused to give me the names of the person or persons from whom they claim to have received this information.

"Under the circumstances no further investigation is possible."

AUTO, STEEL, ELECTRICAL AND PACKING PLANTS ARE FACED WITH DISPUTES OVER WAGES

CIO Union Authorizes Filing Petition Which Would Affect 102,000 Employees of Westinghouse Corporation in 25 Cities

34-WEEK-OLD WALKOUT IN HOLLYWOOD ENDS

By the Associated Press
The nation's postwar labor troubles, which threaten to expand to key industries if approved strike votes scheduled are carried out, kept about 261,000 persons away from their jobs today as labor and management studied President Truman's appeal for industrial peace and prosperity.

Strike votes have been asked or approved in the automobile, steel, electrical and packing industries, with wages the major issue. The CIO United Automobile Workers asked a 30 per cent increase in wages for the automotive industry, affecting about a half million workers.

The CIO Steel Workers also have petitioned for a strike vote after rejection of demands for $2 a day pay raises for some 600,000 employees in mills. A CIO union also has authorized filing a strike vote petition which would affect 102,000 employees of Westinghouse Electric Corporation plants in 25 cities.

The CIO Packinghouse Workers Union asked for a strike vote among 200,000 production workers seeking a 25 cents an hour wage hike. A majority of the current labor disputes are over wages.

In the San Francisco Bay area today, the strike of some 10,000 AFL and CIO machinists for the second day kept idle about 40,000 other workers in 200 industrial plants. An AFL spokesman expressed hope for a "break" in the stoppage today as federal conciliators met with management and labor in an effort to end the walkout.

Milk distributors warned that wounded veterans at the army's Letterman General Hospital and on hospital ships will be deprived of milk as a result of the strike.

Shutdown of the American Can Company plant, which manufactures all paper milk cartons in the San Francisco Bay region, was expected to cut milk deliveries from 40 to 60 per cent within the next two days. Mayor Roger Lapham of San Francisco said he was unsuccessful to have strike leaders insure milk deliveries. The striking machinists are seeking 30 per cent wage increases.

Meanwhile, the major development along the labor front was the ending of the 34-week old strike of 7,000 employees of Hollywood Movie Studios. The workers were ordered back to their jobs today by Strike Leader Herbert Sorrell who told them last night that AFL officials in Washington had authorized their return.

Shipping operations in Galveston, Tex., were back near normal today as a four day old strike of AFL clerks and checkers was ended and a wage dispute settled.

A tie in virtually all over-the-road bus transportation east of the Mississippi at midnight tonight was threatened by a strike of 4,000 employees of Central and Pennsylvania Greyhound Lines and affiliates. Federal conciliators met with union and company representatives in an effort to settle the dispute over a contract and wages.

A spokesman for the AFL Amalgamated Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach employees said the walkout would start at midnight if an agreement was not reached by then. He said drivers' wages had been reduced 7 1/2 cents an hour on Oct. 1. About 2,000 of the 4,000 employees are drivers.

Also ended today was a walkout of 3,000 CIO employees of the Timken Roller Bearing Co., in Columbus, O., who left their jobs 10 days ago in sympathy with striking employees at the Canton, O., plant. The workers at Canton have not returned.

Higher Shoe Prices Are In Prospect

Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—Higher prices for shoes became a warm issue today as rationing of all footwear ended.

Even as sales without coupons began, shoe manufacturers pressed with OPA officials a contention that rising production costs warrant a price increase.

Shoe rationing ended at 12:01 a. m. today.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles said about 28,000,000 pairs of ration-type shoes will be made this month, as compared with 20,000,000 pairs in August. He predicted production would be up to 28 or 29 million pairs in November and December, and said this would match pre-war demand.

Trouble spots are bound to turn up, Bowles said, during the early days of ration-free buying. He added, however, that OPA and the War Production Board are convinced "that no general hardship (Turn to Page Nine)

Architects To Draw Plans For Proposed War Memorial

Just what kind of a war memorial that Warren county citizens want was reviewed extensively last night at the YMCA by Charles Taylor, field representative of the National Recreation Association, before members of the Recreation Community Council PTA and other citizens connected with present plans to equip this community with a modern memorial to veterans who served and died in the service of their country.

The PTA Council, acting quickly on the land donation made by Albert Ristau, owner of the Reliable Furniture Company, of the Valvoline property on Lexington avenue, had suggestions made to them by Taylor of the various types of projects which could be erected.

Taylor emphasized the fact that towns throughout the nation are planning war memorials, and that such projects are necessary to all communities, no matter how large. He brought out that there are sev-

Ships Rushing To Java Trouble Spot

By RALPH MORTON
Batavia, Java, Oct. 31.—(P)—All available British warships and aircraft were reported rushing today to Soerabaja, the Java trouble spot where British Brig. A. W. F. Mallaby was killed while arranging a truce with Indonesian Nationalists.

Lt. Gen. Sir Philip Christison, Allied commander in The Netherlands East Indies, notified the Nationalists in an ultimatum that further unprovoked native attacks upon British troops would be crushed with overpowering force.

The report of the dispatching of naval and air reinforcements to Soerabaja was circulated by The Netherlands News Agency, Aneta, which said the planes would be used to evacuate European women and children still held at the big naval base—the scene during the past few days of bitter clashes between British Indian and Indonesian Nationalist forces.

State Takes Over Highway At Columbus

Albert L. Sandberg, caretaker at Columbus for the State Highway Department and Highway officials here were notified Tuesday that the state has taken over the main route east from Columbus to Dewey's Corners for maintenance and possibly early reconstruction.

The road, one of the main links in the travel artery toward Bear Lake and Lottsville from Columbus, at one time it was surfaced but each spring finds it badly rutted and it has been the subject of many complaints. Recently some patching has been done by the township supervisors.

State Senator Chapman has conferred with Sec. John U. Shroyer several times as relative to this roadway and it is confidently expected that under the new road program for rural districts that it will be put on the program for reconstruction. The state is planning an immense rural construction program and Sen. Chapman stated today that he would insist on this road being placed on the program.

In the meantime the state having formally accepted the road will turn loose its crews and finish the work which was started by the township and much work will be done toward keeping it in better shape than heretofore.

Rationing Of Shoes Is Ended

OPA Bases Order On Rapid Climb Of Production

Washington, Oct. 30—(AP)—The end of shoe rationing was ordered today, effective at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday.

Terminating a program which began on February 8, 1943, OPA Administrator Chester Bowles said rationing can be lifted because shoe production has increased substantially since V-J Day.

WILL BE TRANSFERRED

Adjutant Arthur Brandenburg, who has headed the work of the Salvation Army in a most efficient manner for some months past will be transferred to Oil City in the near future to head the work in that city. Adjutant Brandenburg will take the place of Major Arthur Wheatley, commander of the Salvation Army in Oil City for the past eight years. Major Wheatley will retire from his work in the Army. It is with considerable regret that Warren will see Adjutant Brandenburg moved as he has been a most excellent officer here and has won the love and respect of a great number.

SHOE RATIONING OVER

Too late for a grand rush to the shoe stores last evening announcement was made that shoe rationing imposed during the war had been cancelled. Many who had been assured that rationing would end soon have during the past few days been buying shoes in order to get ahead of the rush which they anticipated. This has resulted in a number of the shoes having shoe sizes broken up and shoe shoppers may meet with a little difficulty during the next few weeks.

Recruiter Is Lions Speaker

Lieutenant Becker of the U. S. Army Recruiting Service spoke on Tuesday at the Lions Club luncheon. The Recruiting Service is headed by Brig. General Gilbert. Although men of different ages are being accepted and many service men are re-enlisting the aim is to interest those men between the ages of seventeen and twenty-one years. For years many people have believed that Army pay is very low, however, it has been figured that a private in the Army now receives the equivalent of $40 per week in civilian life when the cost of his food, clothing, medical and dental care is taken into consideration. This program also provides for an early retirement at half pay after twenty years of service.

Two members of the club—Glen Patchen and Allan Johnson, who have both recently received honorable discharges from the Army, were in attendance.

George Brock of Buffalo, and Fritz Ebel, of Warren, were guests at the meeting.

Dr. W. E. Biddle and William H. Walter, of Warren State Hospital are in New York City to attend a meeting of the national committee for mental hygiene.

Local Defense Council Ends Work On Governor's Order

The Warren county defense council which functioned during the war years will close its books today on orders carried in a proclamation by Gov. Edward Martin. The orders were received yesterday by Chairman Allan Gibson and the affairs of the Council will be concluded and all records and reports will be brought up to date. The order issued by Ralph Cooper Hutchison, executive director of the State Council of Defense is as follows:

"The State Council of Defense, created by Proclamation of Governor Arthur E. James, on April 17, 1941, will be dissolved by Proclamation of Governor Martin, on October 31, 1945.

"County and local councils of defense should be formally dissolved by Proclamation and Resolution of the executive officers or governing bodies of the political subdivisions, as provided for in Section 6 of the 'State Council of Defense Act,' approved March 19, 1941, P. L. 6, and an appropriate record thereof made upon the official minutes. It is suggested that the solicitor for the municipality be consulted in each case, so that a proper legal proclamation or resolution may be promulgated or adopted."

The Warren County Council as formed under the direction of Mr. Gibson was complete in every way and the choice of men over the county and in the borough to head the various departments was carefully done. All features of the program as outlined by the State Council were carried out in such a manner that commendations were frequent from the State leaders. In the state publication relative to the Defense work Warren county many times was held up as a model.

The control centers set up in towns of the county functioned well and in Warren Commander Forest Waite had what was often characterized as the "West Point of Pennsylvania Control Centers". Many visitors were brought to

Details For Big Parade Are Outlined

The kiddies' Hallowe'en costume parade being held at North Warren on Saturday afternoon will form at the rear entrance to the State Hospital's main building, in the area between the greenhouse and old laundry building, instead of the front entrance as announced previously.

The action has been taken to shorten the line of march for the youngsters participating. The parade will form at 2:30, and will move south on the hospital avenue to Jackson street, then east on Jackson street to State, and south on State street to the community house.

Everything is in readiness for the big North Warren Hallowe'en carnival which opens tonight at 7:30 with a concert by the Struthers Wells Navy Band.

Fine Program For Blue Stocking Club

Mrs. Vance Weld entertained the Blue Stocking Club at her home in Pleasant township Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. W. R. Carlin assisting and Mrs. Robert Winger conducting the business session.

Miss Fannie Smith gave current events of interest, among them an article on the atomic bomb and President Truman's attitude toward its control. She also read a poem written in 1939 predicting its exact use. Another article had to do with the 8,551 conscientious objectors and of their treatment by those in charge. She also read a short article on Japanese Christians and their great desire to again build up their work in Japan.

Mrs. Florence Tillotson, who had the program for the afternoon, chose "Poetry" for her subject. Each member was given quotations by various authors on the value of poetry, these being read aloud. Mrs. Tillotson explained that all poetry should have three great elements, thought, imagination and emotion, and illustrated these elements with poems by Wadsworth, Longfellow, William Cullen Bryant and Edward Martin. She closed with three of her own poems, "Autumn Leaves," "Journey Onward" and "Golden Rule." She made her afternoon of poetry a very interesting and instructive one.

Concluding, tea was served, the table decorations and refreshments being in keeping with Hallowe'en, and Mrs. Winger and Mrs. Ralph Sires presiding.

The next meeting will be on November 13, with Mrs. H. H. Barr and Mrs. Winger entertaining and the program in charge of Mrs. Brackett Ayers.

Martha E. Tarbox Bride On Tuesday

At seven o'clock Tuesday evening, October 30, Miss Martha E. Tarbox, daughter of Mrs. Philip S. Tarbox, Fourth avenue, became the bride of Thomas John White, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. White, of Dunmore. The ceremony was read by the Hon. Allison D. Wade.

The bride wore a dress of sapphire blue with black accessories, and a white orchid corsage. Attending her aunt was Miss Louise Tarbox, who wore a shell pink dress with a corsage of pink roses and white chrysanthemums.

Donald D. Dalrymple was best man.

The bride's mother was attired in black with a corsage of yellow roses, and the bridegroom's mother also wore black with talisman roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the Woman's Club for the immediate families.

For travelling, Mrs. White chose a two piece wine suit. For a wedding trip, the couple are driving through New York state.

Both Mr. and Mrs. White are on terminal leave from the army, and have recently returned from two and one half years overseas.

Melvin Gnage Writes About Big Typhoon

Mrs. Melvin Gnage, Warren RD 1, has received word from her husband, in a letter dated October 12 from Naha, that he came safely through the typhoons in the Pacific area. He is serving as signalman third class aboard the SS Gainesville Victory, a Merchant Marine ship.

Excerpts from his letter state: "Our post office is gone and all our mail lost. We left Monday morning to get away from the typhoon. Got back to Naha last night and pulled in to anchor this morning. We missed most of it until Tuesday night, when it swung around and struck us dead to rights. The wind was over 90 miles an hour. I never thought a ship could take such a beating and still stay afloat. We lost two Liberties the first night. I sure wish I had a camera here. Naha is completely wrecked. There are ships sunk and on the beach all around us. There is one big navy tanker half on the beach, with four army freighters piled on top of it. The beach is littered with small craft. There is a General Sherman 30-ton tank setting on a reef about one-fourth mile off shore. There must have been a lot of lives lost here at Naha and Buckner was hit worse yet. I just heard there are 20,000 homeless on the island. The typhoon season here is from June to November. Let's hope that was the last one!"

IS PROMOTED

William Erickson, with the U. S. forces in Newfoundland, has been promoted to sergeant, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Erickson, Water street. Also with the forces in Newfoundland from Warren are Sgt. Thomas Master-son, and Sgt. Larry Matson. All three service men have spent more than three years at this northern base, and are looking forward to a transfer or discharge soon. All were employees of the Warren plant of the Bell Telephone Company before enlisting.

LEWIS G. BAXTER SERVES THREE YEARS

REMINDER TO CAR OWNERS

Secretary of Revenue David W. Harris, in a statement announcing the beginning Thursday of semi-annual inspection of motor vehicles, says that he regards this coming check-up period as "the most vital the Commonwealth has undertaken since this safety precaution was inaugurated 17 years ago."

Reminding car owners that the inspection period opens November 1, 1945 and ends January 31, 1946, Secretary Harris said:

"Most of the cars on the road today have just about reached the limit of endurance and new cars are still just a possibility. Old cars are a menace to safety and, to guard against accidents from mechanical defects, constant vigilance must be maintained."

"Because of the old car situation and the need for careful checkup, I regard this inspection period, beginning Thursday, as the most vital the Commonwealth has undertaken since this safety precaution was inaugurated 17 years ago. More than 2,000,000 cars must be inspected during the period if their owners desire to legally operate them."

"In the interest of safety, car owners and inspection stations must cooperate in making this coming check-up a thorough one. There can no longer be any excuse for hasty or careless inspections. With the war's end automotive parts are more available. Safe vehicles can be assured. Those that are unsafe must be removed from the road or traffic casualties, steadily increasing because of more driving, will become still heavier. Car owners can cooperate by having their vehicles inspected promptly; stations by making careful and honest inspections. It is all being done to protect the life and property of our citizens. With that in mind we must all work together."

EDUCATING THE JAPS

General MacArthur's educational directives to the Jap government are so enlightened that they might well be copied by schools in this country. Of especial interest is the MacArthur order to "remove all discrimination against any teacher, student or school official on the ground of race, nationality, creed, political opinion or school position."

This is an American ideal. It would be claiming too much to say that it has been fully attained here. But every American interested in education believes in it and is trying to put it into practice.

General MacArthur does not expect the Japs under his order to do better than Americans. But it will do the Japs good to have this ideal.

The General's order abroad can be useful at home if it arouses in Americans a desire to press more insistently toward the goal of a better educational system. When barriers of the type MacArthur mentions block the education of any American youth the principles this country professes are mocked.

WOMEN MARINES BAND COMING

Warren is to be signally honored tomorrow evening when the famous Women Marines Band, composed of fifty talented musicians, will play a free concert at the First Presbyterian church. As noted before "Stepping high and handsome to their own stirring music the Marines will leave the American Legion Home at 7:45 o'clock, escorted by the Legion Honor Guard." The band will march to the church where a free concert will be presented. It should be remembered that there is no admission to this attraction, and there will be no solicitation of Bond sales. Every person is welcome to attend and it is expected there will be a capacity audience. Better plan to be on hand early.

The committee has announced that this is the only official women's band in the Marine Corps—the band that played a leading part in celebrating the victorious return of Admiral Nimitz to Washington.

A hosiery manufacturer predicts every American woman can count on slightly less than eight pairs of full-fashioned hosiery next year. The gals will be glad to settle for seven pairs and some bobby socks.

The Japs have asked permission to import 120,000 tons of oil from the U. S. As far as we can see, these are running pretty smoothly right now.

An auto manufacturer says the new cars really are something to look at. And for some time to come, that's about all.

This is the night of witches, goblins and disappearing furniture. Better clear the porches of moveable objects.

Chapter 18

JOHN LOWELL stood there for a long moment as if he were bewitched at the sight of Anne at the top of the stairway. He looked tired and travel-worn but the bitter look that he habitually wore was wiped away as if by magic, leaving him with a young and eager countenance.

Could she have known how she looked standing there, her hat in her hand, the light from the landing window making a halo about her soft golden hair, she might not have been so surprised at his next move. For he was coming swiftly up the stairway to her, his dark eyes filled with a look that made her heart catch in her throat. It was as if he was in the grip of an emotion that moved him without his own volition, that swept him on and up to heights beyond anything that he had ever hoped or dreamed.

"Anne!" he said softly, reaching out to her. "Is it really you, standing here at the top of my stairway as if—as if you really belonged here?"

With a sense of shock she found herself being enveloped in his longing, being drawn surely into his arms. He held her close and kissed her as if at last he had found release from the torment that bound him.

Then she pushed him from her, her eyes wide with dismay—for she could not quite summon anger. "John!" she cried. "You shouldn't have done that! You know it! Oh, why did you?"

And now she saw the mask descending again over his face—saw the sardonic evanescence reach his eyes, his mouth resume its grim outlines. "Sorry!" he said with a mocking bow. "Will you forgive me for having forgotten myself, Anne? For not having remembered that at our last meeting you gave me a pretty clear impression of what you really think of me? Come, let me drive you back to town!"

"No," she cried with an insistence he could not deny. "I much prefer to walk. Please, you must let me!"

"If that's the way you feel about it," he stepped aside to let her pass him on the stair.

SHE fled down the stairway, across the shining floor of the lower hall and out the big front door. She reached the roadway and started in the direction of the bus stop. She had never been in such a turmoil of emotion. That John Lowell had held her in his arms was enough to shake her completely; but the knowledge that she had the power to change him from the hard, sarcastic, war-ravaged man she had come to know into someone young and eager and thrillingly alive was a responsibility she did not care to entertain. He had spoken to her of his love in the office, but she thought bitterly now that he had had no right to let her see what he might become if she could return that love.

"It's not fair!" she was thinking as she walked alone, entirely unconscious now of the beauty around her. "And I won't sink about it any more. I've simply got to erase the whole thing from my mind."

But this, she found, in the hours and days that followed was not as easy as she had imagined it would be. She found her thought returning to that scene on the stairway time after time. She kept seeing John Lowell with that enraptured look on his face, the years falling away leaving him revealed as the man he was meant to be. She had an ineffable sense of having viewed a transfiguration denied to other eyes.

She wrote long, ardent letters to Wayne and read the ones he sent her avidly, trying desperately to recapture the first fine rapture of their love. Then one day she met Carol King in the aisle of one of the department stores. Carol looked unusually gorgeous in a flowery summer frock and a wide brimmed black hat. Anne was surprised when Carol knew her, stopped to speak with her.

"How do you do, Miss Winslow," she cried gaily. "It's been quite a long time since I've seen you. By the way, I saw our mutual friend, Wayne McDowell, in Chicago recently. He asked to be remembered to you."

Anne felt her spine stiffen. A very old quotation she had often heard her father repeat came to her mind. "A false friend has honey in his mouth, gall in his heart." She wondered what Carol King was trying to accomplish.

"Really, Miss King," she replied, her eyes wide and innocent. "How nice of him to remember me!"

Carol's eyes narrowed. Evidently this was not the naive girl she had expected to encounter. She had been furious because Wayne had been cool toward her in Chicago, and though nothing had been said of it by either Wayne or his aunt, she had rather suspected that Anne Winslow had something to do with it. She was trying desperately now to find out. But when she went on her way a moment later, she was no wiser than before. If Anne had said, "I hear from Wayne every day,"—Carol would have known much better how to plan her campaign. But Anne gave her no such satisfaction and continued making her purchases with a pleased little chuckle rising in her throat.

Remembering her loneliness of the week before, Anne resolved not to spend the next week-end in town. "I'm going home," she determined. "What I need is a good dose of the farm and my own people!" She felt her spirits lifting at the thought of a long talk with her father and mother.

When she mentioned her desire to Mr. Farham he said, "I'm all for it, Anne. You need to get away from routine once in a while. Why don't you go Friday night instead of Saturday noon, and stay longer than Monday if you like. We'll try to manage without you."

Anne thanked him and decided to take the bus Friday night as he suggested. She found herself filled with anticipation and excitement as she dropped a card to her mother and made her preparations to go. It had been a long time since she had been home.

Jap Prisoner Speaks Here

Evelyn M. Witthoff, M. D., for 7 months a prisoner of the Japanese at Santo Tomas University in Manila, will speak at the First Church of the Nazarene at 2:30 p. m. Thursday, according to Pastor Gordon V. Woods. The public is invited.

Dr. Witthoff set sail for India as a missionary under appointment by the Church of the Nazarene with International Headquarters at Kansas City, Mo. With several other missionaries she landed in Manila about the time of the Pearl Harbor episode. She was forced to leave ship and lived in Manila during the month's siege until the city fell into the hands of the Japanese. At that time Dr. Witthoff was interned with many other missionaries and nationals at Santo Tomas Prison in Manila.

"During the last year our food ration was so reduced that we were on a starvation diet. I weighed 82 pounds when the Americans arrived, having lost 48 pounds," states Dr. Witthoff. She was liberated the 3rd of February, 1945, when American troops and tanks crashed through the defenses of Manila and released the prisoners. She sailed for the United States April 10 and arrived in Los Angeles May 2.

"I think I have had a thrilling life, but I do not remember anything quite as thrilling as the night our boys crashed through the walls of the camp with their tanks, and set us free," relates the missionary doctor.

THE STATE POLICE SAY:
Good judgment in following other vehicles will prevent rear end collisions. This judgment can depend on a number of conditions, such as, the speed of vehicles involved, conditions of brakes and condition of highways, whether wet, dry, ice etc. An operator should allow himself a sufficient distance in which to bring his vehicle to a safe stop in the event an emergency stop is made by the vehicle ahead.

SEEKS OPERATORS

The Coast Guard is looking for amateur radio operators to augment the existing communications system of the service for emergency purposes. Within the Coast Guard itself are about 400 amateurs who will be eligible to enroll in the Coast Guard Auxiliary when they return to civilian life. Other radio amateurs, whether veterans or civilians without military experience, are also sought as members of the auxiliary. The organization is purely voluntary and places no military responsibilities upon the members. Applications for membership in the auxiliary from this district are handled by Lt. Cmdr. Ray P. Gallivan, director, District Coast Guard Office, Keith Building, Cleveland, O.

Tire Outlook Still Gloomy Says Inspector

A special meeting of the tire panels of the Local War Price and Rationing Board was held October 30th, at which time Mr. Fuchs, District Tire Rationing executive, of the Pittsburgh District office, presented the true tire picture as

of today. He was accompanied by Mr. McCarthy, District Tire Dealer Inspector.

The occasion for the meeting is the erroneous impression the motorist has today that tire rationing will be off soon, or at least by Jan. 1st. The newspapers and the radio have encouraged this. A large increase in tire applications is the result.

In instructing the Board, Mr. Fuchs stated that in the following teletype the national office again brings home the extreme seriousness of the tire rationing program and the immediate need for taking

"A somewhat discouraging tire rationing quota for the immediate future prompts us to send the following instructions for the administration of the tire rationing program. Tire quotas have not been increased to the extent hoped for. There will be no passenger tire quota increase for October and November passenger tire and large truck tire quotas must be held to the same level as October. Small truck tire quotas will be cut 150,000 units. Tire production reports indicate that tire rationing must

Helmer Danielsons Have Anniversary

On Saturday evening, October 27, about 50 relatives and friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Danielson, Wrightsville, to celebrate with them their 25th wedding anniversary.

Miss Hazel Young, Jamestown, N. Y., led in devotionals and prayer. Miss Violet Young sang a solo, "O Happy Home," accompanied by Mrs. Albert Sandberg, Ed Austin then presented the honored guests with a gift of money. Later there was more singing of familiar hymns.

Lunch was served cafeteria style with candles lighting the table and bouquets of chrysanthemums used in decorations. These were repeated in the course made by Miss Florence Carlson and worn by Mrs. Danielson. In the table's center was a huge three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The occasion was also a joyous one because of the presence of two returned soldiers, recently discharged from the army. They were Elliott Danielson and Floyd Melquist.

At a late hour guests left with best wishes for the best of health, happiness and a long life side by side. Those attending came from Erie, Jamestown, Prewsburg, Lakewood, Falconer, Youngsville, Columbus, Lottsville, Miles Run, Lind Hill and Wrightsville.

Indiana Students Will Give Program

Harry Summers, chairman of the program committee, announces that students from Indiana State Teachers College will provide the program for the November meeting of Warren School Music Boosters Club, to be held at 7:45 p. m. next Tuesday at the will be both vocal and instrumental selections, the names of students and their numbers to be announced later.

Members of the organization are reminded this is the first meeting to be held on the first Tuesday of the month, the change in meeting date having been voted at the October business session because of conflict with other school activities.

All parents having students in vocal or instrumental groups of the public school music department are invited and urged to attend Boosters' meeting. A similar invitation is extended to the students themselves and to all friends interested in fine music and promotion of the school music program.

Local Girl Bride Of Veteran Gunner

Mrs. Stella Saylor, Pleasant township, announces the marriage of her daughter, Margaret Ann, to John A. Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hill, Los Angeles, Calif. The ceremony took place in Hollywood, Calif., on October 11. Attendees were the bride's cousin and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hummerich, also formerly of Warren.

The bride is well known in the community, having been employed for the past two years in The Nut Shop.

Mr. Hill, veteran of World War II, was one of the first gunners on a B-29 to come back here.

The couple are residing at 5001 Melrose avenue, Hollywood.

Miss Lougee attended Los Arcos school for girls, Phoenix, Ariz.; Peace Junior College, Raleigh, N. C. and was graduated last June from St. Anne's, Charlottesville, Va. She is now a freshman at Bennington College, Bennington, Vt.

Lt. Langhans, who is a member of the Army Air Corps, has seen service in France, Belgium and Germany, and is now in this country on rest leave.

No date for the wedding has been set.

Will Teach English

To help meet the American army's great need for interpreters in Japan, the YMCA of Tokyo has reopened its English Language School, according to information relayed from Japan to Ralph Wagner, general secretary of the local association. Already serving as interpreters are many of this school's pre-war students. Throughout the war all the movements and writings of the Japanese "Y" leaders were under constant surveillance of the secret police. Their work was confined largely to relief for air raid victims, but they successfully resisted strong government pressure to drop the word "Christian" from the association's name. The Tokyo "Y" has now resumed several activities, including forums on world affairs, designed to give Japanese youth a Christian world outlook and to help construct and physical regeneration of the thousands of youth now returning home from the battlefields and factories. No word has been received, as yet, as to the status of associations in other cities, except that several buildings were completely destroyed.

American troops will be invited to use the swimming pool and gymnasium in Tokyo as soon as air raid damages have been repaired. Established 56 years ago through the help of the North American YMCA's World Service Program, the Japanese "Y" movement, in its subsequent growth to 183 local associations, had constant American and Canadian "Y" cooperation until the attack on Pearl Harbor. One North American YMCA representative, Russell L. Durbin, is now on his way back to Japan, temporarily allocated to the U. S. State Department as an advisor to its delegation there.

Directs Women Marines' Band

Music in the interest of the Victory Loan drive comes to Warren tomorrow evening, when the Women Marines' Band presents a concert in the Presbyterian church through the auspices of the War Finance Committee. Shown from left to right are: Master Sergeant Charlotte Plummer, band director; Private First Class Jean Mikkelsen, soloist and clarinet player, and Sergeant Rhoda Andersen, drummer.

Master Technical Sergeant Charlotte Plummer, voice and plans to study opera when she is released from the service. Before she joined the Marines, Jean studied music at MacPhail College of Music in Minneapolis, her hometown. She sang with the St. Paul Civic Opera Company and in the Summer Symphony Pop Concerts in St. Paul.

Tall and terrific, Sergeant Rhoda Andersen of San Leandro, California really beats it out on the drums while playing with the Women Marines' Band.

Although Rhoda is noted for her energy and ability with the drums, she admits that at one time they got away from her. Determined not to let them get away again, she hit them so hard she broke the drum stick. Travelling is the drummer's favorite hobby so being a member of the Band enables her to combine business and pleasure.

Sergeant Mary Corlett, bass player in the Band, caused some unscheduled excitement during the last tour through Pennsylvania. Billed in a sixth floor room of a Harrisburg hotel, Mary became tired waiting for the elevator, walked to the nearest fire exit, opened the door, and marched gaily down the six flights humming the Marine Hymn. As she reached the line, "You'll find the streets guarded by—" she opened the ground floor door and found the local fire department had given a new twist to the famous song. Standing there to greet her were twenty firemen and the street was lined with engines. Mary had set off the alarm when she opened the fire exit door.

Plan now to attend and enjoy the splendid concert which these vivacious girls will bring to Warren tomorrow night. The concert is free to all and no bonds will be sold at the church. But the committee urges everyone to buy their bonds early so we may tell our returning service men and women that we too finished our job.

Mary is urgently needed to pay hospital costs, transportation costs to bring the boys home, and to provide funds to insure the peace. We can express our gratitude by making this the greatest drive of all.

MEETING AT RUSSELL

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Russell held its regular meeting in the Firemen's Hall, with Mrs. Peterson, Betty street, Mary Alice Clark, new field secretary, was a guest.

For the entertainment, the girls dramatized the seven days of Girl Scout Week; had outdoor games; heard a Halloween story told by Mrs. T. R. Sponsler, and then drew pictures in illustration of the tale. A trip through the Witch's Cave was another highlight of the program. The girls made their own costumes from paper, a task requiring ingenuity and effort on the part of many.

Assisting the girls with their plans were the Brownie leader, Mrs. Marcel Frigent, and her assistant, Mrs. Francis Cogswell; the Scout leader, Mrs. Harold Stohl, with Mrs. Sponsler and Mrs. Carl Barker as aides.

Among the girls present were four new members, Mary Louise Gerardo, and Virginia Hober, Brownies; and Rosemary Gerardo, and Rachel Wood, Scouts, all from the Hoffman Home.

It is learned that the two troops have plans to under way for a birthday party and tea for their mothers at Johnson school on November 13.

One of the features of the October meeting of East street PTA, held at the school on Monday evening, was a comprehensive report of the regional PTA conference held here on October 3. Reports of officers and committee heads included an announcement there will be a paper collection on the Tuesday following each regular meeting date; also that Mrs. Charles Eggleston is chairman for this project. Mrs. Douglas Kropf and Mrs. H. R. Robertson will be the committee for a rummage sale to be held on November 9-10.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. R. F. Otterbein, who presented Little Patty Larson in two beautiful vocal numbers. Her accompaniment at the piano was played by her teacher, Mrs. Betty Smith. Special speaker for this month was Burgess R. W. Steber, whose talk on "How a Town is Run," contained much that was both interesting and amusing. Banners awarded for the month went to rooms taught by Miss Boyd and Miss Holt for no tardiness and to Miss Boyd's room for attendance. At the close of the meeting and program, a real treat was provided through refreshments in keeping with the Halloween spirit. Mrs. Taft having charge of this portion of the entertainment.

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF WARREN COUNTY AND WARREN BOROUGH:

When the call to arms came many a man went forth to fight for the safety and freedom of every one of us and to my surprise not a soldier's name of War II appeared on the Republican ticket.

Therefore, I appeal to one and all of you to cast aside all party consideration and vote for the Soldier Candidates on the Democratic ticket at the November election, thus honoring the three soldiers who, having returned from the battlefields, are now asking you for your vote.

I was born and raised a Republican and it is little we can do to repay them for what they did for us. So

Vitamins, If Needed Are More Valuable Than Diamonds

By MULLEN DRUG CO.

You may be one of those fortunate people who have no need for extra Vitamins. Your diet is so balanced, your assimilation of foods is so perfect that you need no more.

The chances are, however, that you do need additional Vitamins. If so, they are worth more to you than priceless gems.

They are simple and easy to take, readily available, the best are the least expensive and when needed are worth their weight in diamonds. They restore to your system the minerals and salts which the strain of modern living condition may have wasted without your knowing it.

If your doctor has not recommended a certain label, ask a reputable druggist to suggest the Vitamins.

Survey Shows 87% of College Athletes Have Outstanding Record During World War II

Chicago, Oct. 31.—(P)—The nation's college athletes, the Athletic Institute said a survey indicated today, have made "an outstanding" record in service to their country in World War II.

President Ted P. Bank of the institute said a data asked of 380 colleges, replies were returned by 98 on the students who had completed in football, basketball, track and baseball.

It showed that of 10,742 football lettermen listed, 87.7 per cent were in service when the survey was instituted last spring, 63.8 per cent won commissions; 59.4 per cent saw overseas service and 45.4 per cent were in combat service.

Of the 3,510 basketball players of the 98 colleges that answered questionnaires, 85.2 per cent were in service with 74.7 per cent overseas and 64.2 per cent overseas and 52.5 per cent in combat duty.

The basketball players had the best record of all college athletes. Among other reporting college athletic departments, track squads had 8,164 lettermen, with 80.6 per cent in service; 67.1 per cent held commissions, 60.8 per cent overseas and 46.1 per cent in combat service.

Of 3,842 baseball lettermen reported, 85.4 per cent were in service, 65.5 per cent won commissions, 64.4 per cent were overseas duty, and 47.3 per cent were in combat service.

The survey said that deferment for physical disabilities was 3 to 4 per cent, termed exceptionally low compared with the over 40 per cent figure for the entire country. The essential industry percentages in sports classifications ranged from 3.8 to 9.6 per cent and were made up largely of lettermen who majored in engineering and other technical courses, many of whom had key jobs in war industries.

The institute said that statistics from the National Football League "also clearly demonstrates" that the pro grid players had a high percentage of participation in the war effort. More than 500 pro football players, who were on the active roster in 1941, entered the service, the survey said, and the majority of them have earned commissions.

In citing "outstanding examples of some of the nation's colleges in furnishing athletes to service," Banks said the University of Wisconsin reported 99 per cent of their lettermen were in service, while the University of Pennsylvania said more than 90 per cent of all athletes were in service.

5,434 Listed In Baseball Draft

Chicago, Oct. 31.—(P)—Baseball players of possible major league calibre and carrying price tags ranging up to $7,500 will be practically a dime a dozen here tomorrow.

That will be when major league managers and owners meet for the annual player draft at the baseball commissioner's office. There are 5,434 of them listed from among the nation's minor leagues, all of them eligible for the big league draft.

The Philadelphia Athletics, American League tilters, will have first choice in this year's draft. The Phillies, who finished last in the National League, will be second. The Athletics can choose any player among 5,434 minor leaguers they wish.

BEHIND THE LINES

WINTER SPORTS

Although the war memorial is the most outstanding topic in the local sports world today, now is also the time to think of some of the winter sports which are making their way for a rough into the picture.

Basketball comes in the month of November and in all probability you realize that tomorrow starts the month off with a bang. Already, Joseph A. Massa, the head basketball man at Warren High, has begun getting a line on his season's candidates and prospects. This year's crop of courtmasters will be one of the largest ever produced at the school because of the large number of players who have had previous H. S. cage experience. Massa, with his first game scheduled for November 30 against Youngsville, hopes to get underway with some of his boys within two weeks and follow up with tryouts for new candidates immediately after the close of football season November 9.

A new asphalt floor is being laid at the YMCA, delaying initial league plans there, but the job will soon be finished and the word sent out for prospects of cage leagues there. Lloyd Shirk, program secretary there, expects a possibility of two leagues, due to the increased number of returning servicemen. Already several teams have signed loop interests.

Also on the prospective winter sports program are additional swimming classes at the Y, opening of men's volleyball leagues again this season, and a host of others.

As for ice skating, a stumbling block enters the picture. Possibly the concrete court at Beatty school can be flooded and frozen and, of course, there are the ponds in Pleasant township.

HERE AND THERE

LT. Commander Charley Gelbert, one-time St. Louis Cardinal shortstop, has signed as baseball coach at Lafayette College. . . Tom Juliano, who paired at forward with Joe Scalise on last year's championship Warren High cage squad, is home on furlough. Scalise is still convalescing in Texas. . . Vin Gray, also of last year's team, has taken up boxing and has won two out of three matches. . . Northern District Nine officials and coaches will meet tomorrow night in Bradford's St. Bernard Auditorium at eight o'clock. . . Red Johnson, who will coach the Shenango Valley All-Stars when they tangle with the Allegheny Stars, also coached the Sharpsville court five last year that defeated the locals in the District Ten playoff. . . Homer Fleming, former mat coach and physical instructor at Beatty Junior High, is now teaching phys. ed. at Belmont, N. Y. High.

Quaker Guard Top Lineman Of the Week

New York, Oct. 31.—(P)—Penn lost the game to Navy but Joe Dickerson, a Quaker guard, showed enough ability to be named the Associated Press "Lineman of the Week" for his brilliant defensive play.

Recovering four of seven fumbles and disrupting Navy play by frequent sorties into their backfield, Dickerson was one of the chief reasons why the Midshipmen had to take to the air to win in the last 25 seconds.

Ray Crowther, assistant Penn coach, who ran the club because of the illness of boss George Munger, said "Joe was in virtually every play and really bowled over those Navy players. I didn't realize how terrific he was until I saw the movies."

Dickerson, a 25-year-old junior from Philadelphia, was the third successive guard to be named the standout lineman of the week. Two middle western operators, Tom Hughes of Purdue and Warren Ambling of Ohio State, had preceded him.

Other players nominated included: Ends—Bob Sponaugle, Penn; tackles—Mike Jarmoluk, Temple; Guards—George Waltz, Temple; Jim Cregar, Holy Cross.

Baugh, Hutson Star In Pro Grid League

By JERRY LISKA
Chicago, Oct. 31.—(P)—It's fortunate for the National Football League generally that Washington's singing Sammy Baugh and Green Bay's sticky-fingered Don Hutson are not on the same team.

As the Packers trimmed the Chicago Cardinals last Sunday, the oft "retired," but never benched Hutson increased his scoring and pass receiving leads. Green Bay's phantoms tallied 21 points for a total of 75, while seven more catches boosted his five-game bag to 29.

Baugh, on the other hand, connected 20 times in 24 pass attempts as Washington downed the

Sharpville Mentor Heads Shenango Men

Oil City, Oct. 31.—Bob Johnston, head athletic coach at Sharpville high school for the past 13 years and one of the district's leading grid mentors, will coach the Shenango Valley all-star gridriders in the first annual "Right for Sight" benefit game to be played in Oil

City on Friday night, November 16.

The Shenango Valley pigskinners, comprising the cream of the crop of football players from Sharon, Mercer, Greenville, Farrell, Hickory township, Sharpville and Grove City, will meet the Allegheny Valley all-stars. The Allegheny eleven will be recruited from players who starred during the past season for Oil City, Franklin, Titusville, Warren, Bradford, Emlenton and Meadville high schools.

Coach Joe Connors of Oil City will serve as mentor of the Allegheny Valley team. His associates will be the coaches from the other six schools.

Members of the fox clan, also helped to deplete the rabbit population.

But other than the rabbit angle, the first day of the small game season is shaping up in fine style, and the men and women who invade this section of the state should find plenty of action once the starting time rolls around.

The season will last through November 30 with shooting hours after the first day beginning 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. The bag limits, with day and season figures being given in order: Ruffed grouse, 2 and 8; quail, bobwhite, 4 and 12; Hungarian partridge, 2 and 8; wild turkeys, 1 and 1; Clarion, Forest, Jefferson, McKean, Snyder, Tioga and Warren counties closed; ring-necked pheasants, males only, 2 and 8; rabbits, cottontail, 4 and 20; squirrels, gray, black and fox, 6 and 24; squirrels, red, unlimited.

The game supervisor reminded hunters that it is illegal to carry loaded guns in automobiles, shoot across a highway or to shoot within 150 yards of a dwelling or outbuilding.

The game commission office reports that a plentiful supply of .12 gauge shotgun shells apparently exists at the present, but adds that hunters seeking shells of the .16 and .20 gauge variety are finding them rather hard to obtain.

Game Supervisor Hayes T. Engert predicts that the sportsmen will find ringneck pheasants, squirrels and grouse fairly plentiful, but he failed to give the rabbit hunters much encouragement.

The supervisor said that rabbits are not so plentiful. Asked whether he meant that rabbits are more scarce than last year, he said that the rabbit situation is worse than last year when there were few rabbits to be found.

The cold, rainy summer season was blamed by the supervisor as the major reason for the scarcity of rabbits and he said that predatory animals, especially the members of the fox clan, also helped to deplete the rabbit population.

Joe McCarthy Will Manage Yanks In '46

By JACK HAND

New York, Oct. 31.—(P)—Joe McCarthy isn't ready to step out of baseball yet and is looking forward to the next spring training season as one of his most interesting adventures.

Marse Joe came out of a three-hour huddle with President Larry MacPhail yesterday to announce that the New York Yankees will have two conditioning camps at St. Petersburg and Bradenton for the first time in history.

"I hope to manage the Yanks for the next 10 years if my health holds out," commented McCarthy, who must make a flock of decisions before February.

Joe Di Maggio, Tommy Henrich, Phil Rizzuto, Charley Keller, Spud Chandler, Aaron Robinson, and Red Ruffing already have returned from the wars and many more like Joe Gordon, Bill Dickey, Bill Johnson, Buddy Hassett, and Johnny Sturm are expected before another season.

Player personnel won't be the only change at the Yankee Stadium next year where lights for night ball will be installed.

The right field bleachers will be roofed and a double-decked stand will increase the seating capacity to about 75,000.

Everybody reads the Times-Mirror.

Hallow'en Celebrators Keep Coppers Busy Over the City

Police last night were busy answering calls relative to Hallow'en celebrators. Most of the pranks were harmless such as ringing doorbells, etc., but there were a few instances where the coppers itched to get their hands on some of the lads. One of these was a group of lads cruising about town in a coupe which they stopped at various places long enough to smash a few light bulbs in street lights. Boys old enough to operate cars are old enough to feel the full force of the law. It is to be hoped that police will run down this group and make examples of them. Most of the depredations are done by older boys and girls and Chief of Police Hasch has issued orders to "bring them in". A box car filled with blankets and the door invitingly open was found by police on a check of the New York Central yards last night and the railroad officials notified. A small auto accident took place at 1:30 this morning when the car of John Eldrege, 318 Union street and one driven by Joseph Grotzinger came together at Water and Third streets. Damage done to the cars was considerable.

Agents Will Go To Corry

The November meeting of the Purchasing Agents Association of Northwestern Pennsylvania will be held Thursday evening in the Hotel Corry, with the business session preceded by a 6:30 dinner.

The main speaker for the evening will be Gordon Benedict, regional manager of industrial relations for General Motors. His subject will be "General Motors—Before and After the War". He will give something on the pre-war history of General Motors and will deal with reconversion problems in the industry. He will also attempt a forecast of the future in his field.

Commodity discussions on lumber and coal will be presented, and National Director McCullough will give a report on the happenings at the Sixth District meeting which was held at Columbus, Ohio, in October.

All members are urged to be present.

ASK ARTICLES FOR NEEDLEWORK GUILD
Directors of Warren Branch, Needlework Guild, report that many members have not yet turned in their articles for the Garment Collection to be held on Friday at the Woman's Club. This must be done immediately if the items are to be included in this year's gathering. For those who have not yet made their purchases, it is suggested that articles most needed are infants' wear of all types, and children's things, both boys' and girls', for ages from two to twelve years.

Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Knapp and daughter, Dorothy, of Saegertown, were in town on a business trip yesterday and today and took opportunity of greeting many friends.

Personal Paragraphs

Paul Zahransky, 35 Locust street, was treated at Warren General Hospital Tuesday after he had received a puncture wound in his left leg when he was struck by a piece of waste steel at the Hammond plant. He was discharged after the injury had been dressed.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Franks, Poplar street, have returned from Denver, Colo., where they were called by the death of their sister-in-law Mrs. L. J. Funderburg, whose death resulted from injuries received in an automobile accident.

Bert Levinson, of the Betty Lee Shop has been in New York for the past few days on a buying trip and in spite of tight markets wires home that he has secured a selection of fine garments of various kinds.

William Servelli, 802 Pennsylvania avenue, east, was x-rayed at Warren General Hospital yesterday and it was found he had fractured his left wrist when he slammed a cellar door on his arm. A cast was applied and he was discharged.

Plummer Wilson, of Kellettville, was brought to Warren General Hospital Tuesday for x-rays after he had been injured while at work for the Endeavor Lumber Company. A log rolled upon his left leg, but no fracture was disclosed.

The many friends of Mrs. Mildred Berdine will be pleased to learn that she is getting along satisfactorily following an operation at the Buffalo General Hospital.

Mrs. Grace Dana, Jamestown, N. Y., and Mrs. A. H. Loggren, of Bemus Point, N. Y., spent Tuesday in Warren as guests of Mrs. H. G. Shirley.

To Make it Easy for Vets to Purchase Surplus Materials

Veterans will find it less difficult to obtain surplus government property it was announced yesterday by the Surplus Property Administration.

Changes in existing regulations were worked out with representatives of veterans organizations so that service men may obtain the benefits which Congress intended.

They make it possible for a veteran to buy directly from the government under terms as favorable as any large buyer. It eliminates many obstacles which many service men found objectionable. W. S. Hug, Erie District Manager of the Smaller War Plants Corporation said.

The changes are effective beginning October 15 and will:

1. Eliminate the $2,500 limit purchase, though minimum and maximum limits will be set by the SWPC in collaboration with the disposal agencies and with the approval of the Administrator.

2. Allow the veteran entering retail business to buy an initial stock of goods for resale to the public.

3. Allow the veteran to deal directly with disposal agencies after certification by Smaller War Plants Corporation at the lowest price at which such property is sold. He may have SWPC act as his agent but he is not required to do this.

4. Permit the veteran to buy automotive or other equipment which is required by his employment.

5. Provide that credit may be extended to the veteran under terms and conditions established by the agency which sells the goods.

6. Give veterans rights to surplus property to ex-service members who have been released from active service though not technically discharged.

With one exception noted in paragraph 4 in order to qualify as a purchaser of government surplus property, the veteran must be establishing or maintaining his "own" small business, professional or agricultural enterprise, and must be certified by the SWPC. SWPC reviews all veteran's applications and can serve as a buying agent for the veteran. However, under the new regulation upon receipt of his certificate from SWPC the veteran can buy direct from any designated disposal agency that has available and handles for sale the types of property desired. Surplus real estate, industrial plants, shipyards and facilities, and surplus Marine vessels under Maritime Commission control, do not come under the scope of the new regulation.

Surplus property can be purchased by the veteran on the same commercial credit terms and conditions that are afforded to various trades and trade levels. Veterans will be able to purchase surplus property at the lowest price offered at any trade level.

As heretofore the Department of Agriculture will assist the SWPC in reviewing applications of veterans for property for agricultural purposes.

The new regulation allows the purchase of one initial stock of goods for resale. The amount of this stock is limited to what is customarily regarded as appropriate trade procedure.

Under the terms of the revised Regulation 2, the SWPC advises the disposal agencies as to the reserves of property necessary to meet the requirements of veterans.

The Surplus Property Administrator pointed out that disposal of surplus property to veterans still remains a business operation designed for a broad distribution of government surplus property and to help maintain a sound business structure. The law does not provide a preference for personal use but only for business, professional and agricultural enterprises.

In order that the Smaller War Plants Corporation can facilitate veterans' requests and minimize the time for attending to these requests, the veteran is urged to contact Mr. J. Benson, Director of Veteran's Affairs, 304 Bank and Trust Building, Warren, Pennsylvania, who is acting as Liaison between the veteran and this Corporation and who will arrange a time and meeting for the veteran to meet the SWPC Field Engineer, Mr. J. R. Paulson.

Ex-Chaplain To Speak For Social Science

"When Gill Comes Home" is the topic chosen by Rev. Edward K. Rogers, returned army chaplain, for the first meeting of the Social Science Section, Warren Academy of Sciences, to be held at the Woman's Club at eight o'clock Saturday evening.

Hosts for this November meeting are W. T. McCausland, Warren E. Miller, Peter E. Nelson, Ralph Owens, Dr. Hugh Robertson and Rev. Rogers.

The following schedule outlined for the coming season offers many fine programs for the section's membership:

December 1—Socialized Medicine, Dr. Gail Riedelberger, Hosts, Rev. Beecher Rutledge, John G. Rossman, M. F. Saunders, Rev. S. R. Schieb, Chester Seymour, E. W. Smiley and Martin H. Smith.

January 5—The Future of an Aging Population, Nelson A. Johnson, Warren State Hospital, Hosts, J. E. Springer, John H. Stewart, Judge Allison D. Wade, Ralph Wagner, James A. Waite, Phil Wendelboe.

February 2—The Riddle of Russia, Leo Gleese, Struthers-Wells Corporation, Hosts, Robert Whitehill, C. C. Winans, Robert R.

Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The other day a big, quiet-spoken, ruddy-faced "bureaucrat" packed his bags in his suite at the Mayflower hotel and left Washington and the government after more than 11 years.

He was Leo Thomas Crowley, just about the champion dollar-a-year man. Crowley hasn't drawn any federal salary for six years although he held numerous jobs for which salaries were appropriated.

As this "bureaucrat" departed, both Democratic and Republican leaders rose in the senate to pay tribute to "his worth, his ability, his sagacity, and his fearlessness" as a public servant. It was a tribute rarely paid an appointive official by men of both parties.

MOST people think of Crowley (if they think of him at all, for he certainly never advertised himself or his jobs) as the man who stepped into several of Jesse Jones' shoes; or perhaps as the alien property custodian.

His work in the latter job as a sort of combination J. Edgar Hoover, international banker, patent office, and director of numerous businesses would furnish material for a volume or two.

But the truth is that his first, last and only love was the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC).

When FDIC was set up by Congress in 1934, even its backers admitted it was an experiment. Even President Roosevelt was a degree less than lukewarm, but that didn't keep him from looking around for a good man to become chairman of the new corporation.

He found him in Madison, Wis., where Crowley was one of the town's leading citizens and on the board of many banks and corporations. Incidentally he was a prominent Democrat.

Crowley accepted the job with the idea of at least getting the infant measure to the walking stage. When he left the government the other day, he was able to report:

"Today (covered by FDIC) there are 60,000,000 insured accounts and as of June 30, 1946, the corporation will have built up capital and surplus amounting to $1,000,000,000. We are proud of this record; particularly of the fact that after 11 1/2 years of deposit insurance protection, FDIC could liquidate today, reimburse the government the money it invested plus a dividend of 22 percent and return every penny of the assessments the banks paid to the corporation."

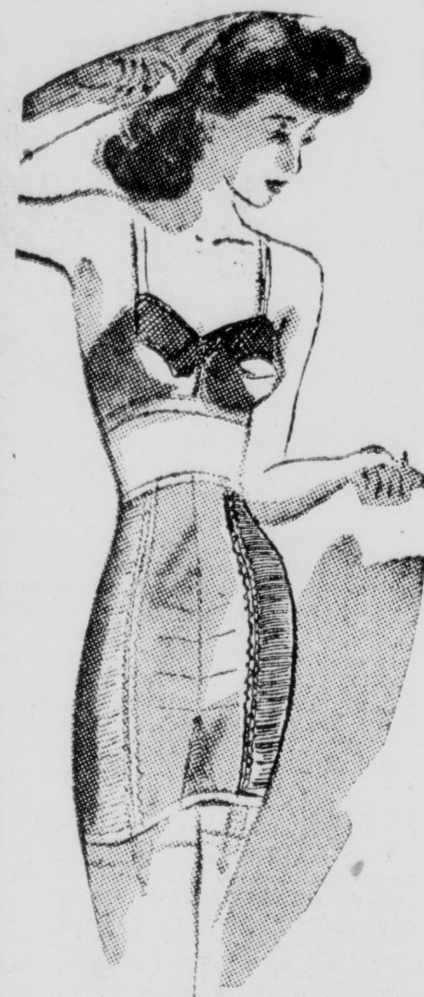

Crowley started his business career at the age of 12 as a grocery clerk. When he graduated from college nine years later, he owned the grocery.

IT WAS typical of Crowley's indifference to public opinion, and his deep certainty of his own integrity, that in 1939 he accepted chairmanship of the Standard Gas and Electric Co., at $50,000 a year, without giving up his government post.

As Sen. Wagner pointed out, whenever the committee on banking and currency found out Crowley was for a piece of legislation, the members would be "75 percent in favor of it even before hearings were held."

LABOR WARNED BY PRESIDENT AGAINST MAKING TOO GREAT PAY DEMANDS ON EMPLOYERS

Chief Executive Makes Vigorous Broadcast Appeal For Industrial Peace and Prosperity, Says Higher Pay is Needed

RELAXES ORDER ON CONTROLS OF INCREASES

Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—President Truman, who last night advocated reasonable wage increases without major price changes, denied today to suggest a percentage by which he thought wages should be boosted.

He told a news conference that the amount of increases would have to be determined in each individual case.

That is why it has to be done by collective bargaining, the president told reporters who questioned him about his radio address last night in which he laid down his post-war wage-price policy. It calls for two things.

Division Of Lap Fleet Is Decided Upon

Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—Secretary of State Byrnes announced today that Russia, Britain and China would share equally with the United States in a division of that part of the Japanese fleet which is not destroyed.

The vessels to be divided include 10 destroyers and an undisclosed number of small coastal defense ships of 800 to 900 tons. Those to be destroyed—Byrnes spoke of scuttling them—are a battleship, four aircraft carriers, of which three are damaged; four cruisers, of which three are damaged, and 51 submarines.

Asked at a news conference whether the method of scuttling would allow a test to determine the effectiveness of atomic bombs on naval units, Byrnes said he did not know the method to be employed. However, naval sources indicated such an experiment might be made.

Byrnes said the navy had wanted to destroy most of what was left of the Japanese fleet and put the matter up to the other three powers. They agreed to the arrangements for destroying all the major vessels and dividing the destroyers and lesser ships except the submarines.

ap Trade Unions Resume Activities

Tokyo, Oct. 31.—(P)—Japanese labor, reactivated under American occupation policy, currently has halted and plans to use politics as a vehicle of advancement.

The agreement for united action is reached at a meeting of Kokusai Matsuo, labor leader, and the conservative Japan Trade Union Congress, and Kanju Kato, head of the left wing National Council Japanese Labor Unions. They will sponsor a meeting Friday to create a Socialist party.

On the occupation front, American counter-espionage officers jailed 100 Nazis, including a number Gestapo members and aides of Josef Meisinger, "Butcher of Warsaw," and impounded more than $1 million dollars' worth of bonds and securities. Most of the bonds were made in resort areas where Eighth Army intelligence officers had been waiting for the Nazis' activities for some time.

Meisinger himself was arrested weeks ago. Four of his aides, including his secretary, were among those seized.

Truman Not Thinking About a Second Term

Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—President Truman said today he has given no thought to a possible campaign for a second term.

Asked at a news conference whether he will run again, Mr. Truman replied he did not have to think against himself at this time. His response brought laughter from reporters.

The president, more serious, said at the matter of a possible second term had not entered his thoughts—that he had been too busy on other things.

Big Point In Inflation Talk Provides Industry Loophole

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—President Truman—in a couple of paragraphs tucked away in his statement on wages and prices—gave American industry a lead to raise wages—plus a loophole.

Company after company has based on unions' demands for pay raises on the grounds that such increases would prevent the companies from making a fair profit.

In his wage-price policy statement last night, Mr. Truman effect tells industry: All right. You say you can't raise wages without losing a profit. So you come to us now and ask a price rise to make up for that loss, we say no.

But even though the government tells you now that you can't raise your price, go ahead and raise wages.

Then, if at the end of six months you can prove to the government that giving that wage raise has deprived you of a fair profit, the government will consider a price raise for you.

There are two very important things to remember about this new policy:

1. A company could lose a lot of money in six months before it got a price increase. But a company is hardly likely to raise wages so high that it would suffer a big loss.

2. What would happen to the government's efforts to hold down prices if at the end of six months business generally was allowed to raise prices because raising wages had deprived it of a fair profit?

Mr. Truman apparently thinks that industry generally can boost wages without boosting prices and still suffer no loss. If this is true, there's no general price raise at the end of six months.

Member Of PUC Dies Of Heart Attack

Williamsport, Oct. 31.—(P)—Ralph W. Thorne, member of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, died today in the Williamsport hospital of an heart attack. He was 47.

Thorne, a native of Williamsport, was stricken while visiting his mother, Mrs. Robert H. Thorne, and died an hour after he was taken to the hospital. Thorne made his home with his mother when he was not in Harrisburg.

He was appointed to the Public Utility Commission on July 12, 1939 by former Governor Arthur H. James for a 10-year term. Before joining the commission, Thorne resigned as Republican chairman of Lycoming county and as a member of the Williamsport school board.

Thorne at that time also retired as president of the Darling Valve and Manufacturing Company, of Williamsport, which his father founded.

Born on Feb. 17, 1898 at Williamsport, Thorne received his education in the Williamsport schools, Mercersburg Academy and Cornell University.

Thorne entered Cornell University in 1917 but a year later enlisted in the naval reserves during World War One. After the war he resumed his studies at Cornell but left in 1921 to become vice president of the Darling concern. He was advanced to the presidency in 1930 at the death of his father.

Thorne also helped organize the Radiant Steel Products Company, of Williamsport, and for a time was its president.

He was a delegate to the Republican national convention in 1940 and an alternate to the 1936 national convention.

Plan Joint Occupation In The Far East

Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—President Truman said today he expects Russia to participate soon in the Far Eastern advisory commission meeting here to consider Japanese control policy.

The president told a news conference he also had received a very satisfactory reply from Generalissimo Stalin to the letter which American Ambassador Harriman recently delivered to Stalin at his vacation retreat in the Crimea.

He did not disclose the contents of the reply.

Failure of Russia so far to send a representative to the Far Eastern meeting here had constituted a stumbling block in American-Soviet relations. The participating governments met for the first time yesterday, but adjourned immediately for a week evidently to give Russia further opportunity to come in on the sessions.

Russian, Chinese and British Empire troops soon may take their place alongside American forces in the occupation of Japan.

American officials have been discussing for some weeks the best way to arrange for joint occupation and it is understood that General MacArthur has been kept informed and his views taken into account.

Report Is Made By Gen. Eisenhower

By NOLAND NORGARD

Frankfurt, Oct. 31.—(P)—Gen. Eisenhower, expressing disappointment over delays in disposing of important problems in Germany, said today it was "evident that only by the spirit of joint accommodation of views can there be any real success for the Allies' control authority."

In his third monthly report as military governor of the American zone in occupied Germany, Eisenhower said delays during September were caused by the necessity for unanimous four-power consent to all matters under consideration. He declared United States policy has been to conform wherever possible to decisions on which the other three representatives of the control council and coordinating committee were agreed. He said he hoped this principle "will find greater acceptance."

Already on record as believing 50 years will be required to re-educate Germany, Eisenhower gave an unfavorable report on prospects for early resumption of full governmental powers by the beaten enemy.

BRIDGE CONTRACT TO PITTSBURGH COMPANY

Harrisburg, Oct. 31.—(P)—The State Highways Department awarded a $19,730 contract today to the John F. Casey Company of Pittsburgh, for repairing a pier of a bridge over the Allegheny river at Tidoute.

TOKYO BLACK MARKET RING IS SMASHED

Four American Soldiers, Two Italians and Three Japanese Placed Under Arrest

STEAL ARMY RATIONS

Tokyo, Oct. 31.—(P)—A black market operation said to involve at least $500,000 worth of stolen army rations and clothing has been smashed with the arrest of four American soldiers, two Italian middlemen and three Japanese distributors.

American authorities said the ring had been in operation about three weeks, pouring into black markets ten-in-one rations, sugar and woolen underwear—articles readily usable by Japanese civilians without detection of the source.

Raiding rooms in Marunouchi Hotel, one of the best in Tokyo, provost marshal officers arrested Pats, Robert E. Tucker, (no street address) Louisville, Ky., and Frank S. Bobst, Philadelphia, both transferees from the European theatre; Staff Sgt. Alexander R. Mintz, whose address was withheld by authorities, and First Sgt. Robert J. Babcock of Harvey, Ill.

While the raid was on, Maj. Gen. C. A. Willoughby, head of General MacArthur's intelligence section, was attending an Italian embassy banquet in the hotel, but he said his presence had no connection with the arrests.

Source of the ring's supply was undetermined, but officers said they were investigating the possibility of bribery of guards and drivers of the 71st Quartermaster Depot, which once was stationed at Marseilles, France.

The officers said the Americans, who were carrying about 70,000 yen ($4,666) when arrested, received $27 for each suit of woolen underwear sold. What the underwear sold for in the black market was unestimated.

The investigation which led to the arrests began when army goods began to appear in large quantities in Japanese stores.

Bestial Brutality Is Laid To General Tomoyuki Yamashita

Manila, Oct. 31.—(P)—Mariano Del Rosario, Manila city undertaker, took the stand against Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita today and testified that victims of the erstwhile "Tiger of Malaya's" troops during their orgy of blood last February mounted to the thousands.

Other witnesses already had told in incident after incident how the Japanese troops, when it was certain they could no longer hold the city, had run wild, slaughtering men, women and children alike.

From February 3 to the end of March, Del Rosario testified, he and his burial crews collected and buried more than 8,000 victims, some of them badly mutilated.

The largest incident of the day's presentation of six cases of atrocity was the massacre of St. Paul's College on February 9, where nearly 1,000 civilians were wounded or killed.

Seek Formula To End Strike In Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Oct. 31.—(P)—For the second time in a week produce wholesalers and members of the AFL-Commission House Drivers and Produce Workers Unions were to hold meetings today to vote on a formula which might end Pittsburgh's five-week produce strike.

The union last Friday rejected a plan which would give its members a raise of $3.50 but which denied the thing which the union said it was striking for: the right to organize hucksters, small merchants and other non-union drivers.

The new formula was arrived at after a meeting between U. S. and state labor conciliators and representatives of the union and of the trade relations committee of the wholesale fruit and produce (Turn to Page Nine)

Martin Demands Dem Retraction

Harrisburg, Oct. 31.—(P)—Governor Martin called today for "immediate and public retraction" by three western Pennsylvania Democrats of charges that state police investigating Pittsburgh voter registration took orders from and reported to Allegheny County Republican Chairman James F. Malone.

Martin said Col. C. M. Wilhelm, state police commissioner, probed the allegations made by Allegheny County Commission Chairman John Kane, and State Senators Joseph Barr (D-Allegheny) and John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland) and had this report from him: "I met with Commissioner Kane and Senators Barr and Dent but all three disclaimed any personal knowledge of the alleged disquiet. Senators Barr and Dent refused to give me the names of the person or persons from whom they claim to have received this information. Under the circumstances no further investigation is possible."

SCHOOL CHILDREN AID Victory Loan Drive

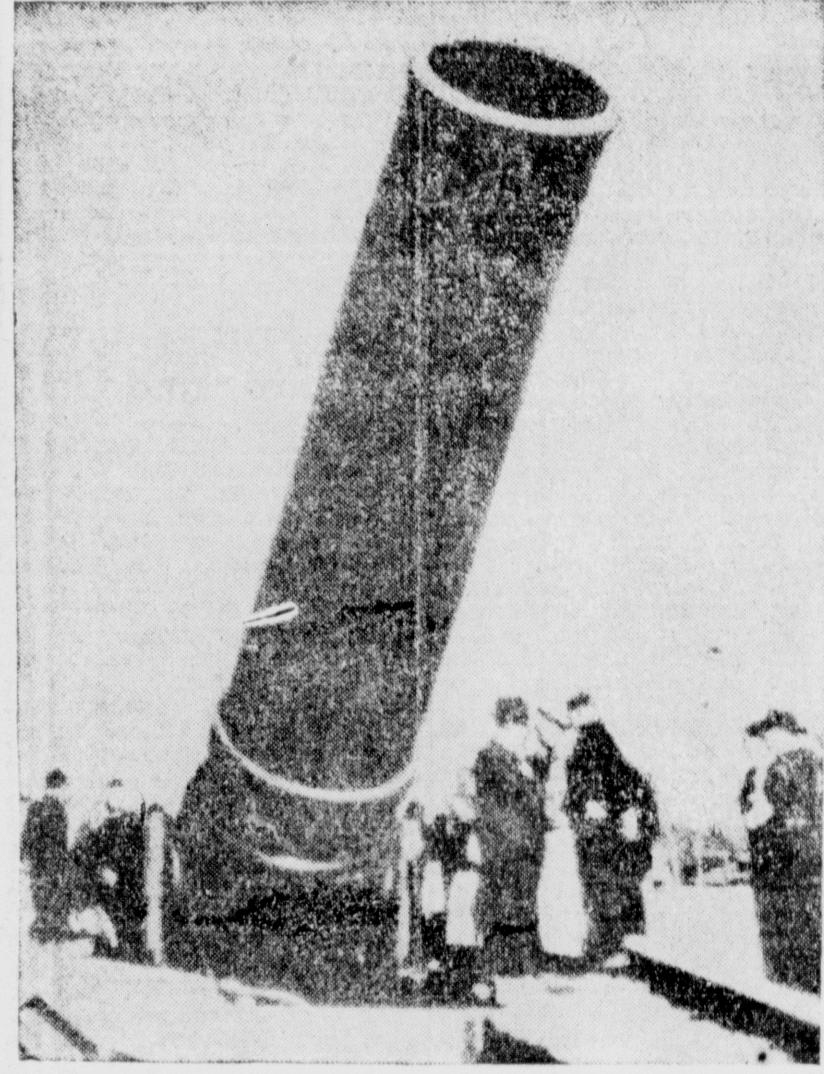

Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—The nation's school children are out to put the $11,000,000,000 Victory Loan over.

In past drives they have written up $1,767,000,000 in sales and this is the way they are working for the Victory Loan today:

In Hackensack, N. J., children will canvass the community with a goal of at least one bond for each of 5,000 school pupils.

In Wilmington, Del., 60 per cent of the city canvassing will be done by "flying squads" of children working systematically block-to-block.

Another Weapon the Japs Escaped

Another highly-secret weapon the Japs barely escaped was the world's largest cannon, pictured above. It is a 36-inch mortar built by Mesta Machine Co., West Homestead, Pa., and was ready for use when the war ended. Essential facts: Barrel length, 38 feet; barrel diameter, 36 inches; weight, 200,000 pounds; hurls two-ton shells six miles at the rate of 12 per hour; maneuverable on highway at speeds up to 75 miles per hour; can be fired from deck of vessel as small as an LST.

Bestial Brutality Is Laid To General Tomoyuki Yamashita

Manila, Oct. 31.—(P)—Witnesses at the war criminal trial of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita continued through the third day today their recital of atrocity—slaughter and rape—committed by troops commanded by the one-time "Tiger of Malaya" and supreme Japanese commander of the Philippines.

Through the repetition of similar instances of bestial brutality in the trial without precedent—Yamashita is charged with responsibility for crimes he never committed and denies having ordered—the prosecution hopes to establish that the acts of the Japanese followed a set pattern in such numbers that the commander should have known of the acts—and did nothing to stop them.

The defense, following its own pattern, continued to object to affidavits and depositions offered by the prosecution, examining and questioning all offerings.

Highlight of the third day's recitation was the testimony of Mrs. Rosario Yulo, who told of being in a home last Feb. 7, where more than 100 civilian men, women and children were shot and burned.

Mrs. Yulo's daughter, son and husband were among those slain.

Other testimony to Japanese atrocities included:

The killing and burning of 22 patients, all civilians, at the National Psychopathic Hospital on the outskirts of Manila was described by a series of witnesses.

The killing of more than 40 persons at the De La Salle College was described by white-robed (Turn to Page Nine)

Architects To Draw Plans For Proposed War Memorial

Just what kind of a war memorial that Warren county citizens want was reviewed extensively last night at the YMCA by Charles Taylor, field representative of the National Recreation Association, before members of the Warren Community Council PTA and other citizens connected with present plans to equip this community with a modern memorial to veterans who served and died in the service of their country.

The PTA Council, acting quickly on the land donation made by Albert Ristau, owner of the Reversible Furniture Company, of the Valvoline property on Lexington avenue, had suggestions made to them by Taylor of the various types of projects which could be erected.

Taylor emphasized the fact that towns throughout the nation are planning war memorials, and that such projects are necessary to all communities, no matter how large. He brought out that there are several ways in which a proper war memorial committee can be set up to go about the task of soliciting funds and also preparing for its maintenance.

Taylor will survey the Valvoline property today and, on his return to the main offices of the Recreation Association, will have architects draw up tentative plans for Warren's memorial. Several drawings will be made so as to enable the citizens here to choose the type of project they desire and that is most needed.

"Stadiums, swimming pools, tennis courts, auditoriums, game rooms, gymnasiums, and numerous other elements could be erected as war memorials," Taylor said, "and, judging from your needs and wishes here, the stadium is probably the most important factor in Warren."

Taylor also suggested the proper procedure in appointing committee, and the PTA Council will begin immediately on the task of making these initial preparations.

AUTO, STEEL, ELECTRICAL AND PACKING INDUSTRIES ARE FACED WITH DISPUTES OVER WAGES

CIO Union Authorizes Filing Petition Which Would Affect 102,000 Employees of Westinghouse Corporation in 25 Cities

34-WEEK-OLD WALKOUT IN HOLLYWOOD ENDS

By the Associated Press

The nation's postwar labor troubles, which threaten to expand to key industries if approved strike votes scheduled are carried out, kept about 261,000 persons away from their jobs today as labor and management studied President Truman's appeal for industrial peace and prosperity.

Strike votes have been asked or approved in the automobile, steel, electrical and packing industries, with wages the major issue. The CIO United Automobile Workers asked a 30 per cent increase in wages for the automotive industry, affecting about a half million workers.

The CIO Steel Workers also have petitioned for a strike vote after rejection of demands for $2 a day pay raises for some 600,000 employees in mills. A CIO union also has authorized filing a strike vote petition which would affect 102,000 employees of Westinghouse Electric Corporation plants in 25 cities.

The CIO Packinghouse Workers Union asked for a strike vote among 200,000 production workers seeking a 25 cents an hour wage hike. A majority of the current labor disputes are over wages.

In the San Francisco Bay area today, the strike of some 10,000 AFL and CIO machinists for the second day kept idle about 40,000 other workers in 200 industrial plants. An AFL spokesman expressed hope for a "break" in the stoppage today as federal conciliators met with management and labor in an effort to end the walkout.

Milk distributors warned that wounded veterans at the army's Letterman General Hospital and on hospital ships will be deprived of milk as a result of the strike.

Shutdown of the American Can Company plant, which manufactures all paper milk cartons in the San Francisco bay region, was expected to cut milk deliveries from 40 to 60 per cent within the next two days. Mayor Roger Lapham of San Francisco said he was unsuccessful in having strike leaders insure milk deliveries. The striking machinists are seeking 30 per cent wage increases.

Meanwhile, the major development along the labor front was the ending of the 34-week-old strike of 7,000 employees of Hollywood Movie Studios. The workers were ordered back to their jobs today by Strike Leader Herbert Sorrell who told them last night that AFL officials in Washington had authorized their return.

Shipping operations in Galveston, Tex., were back near normal today as a four day old strike of AFL clerks and checkers was ended and a wage dispute settled.

A tie up of virtually all over-the-road bus transportation east of the Mississippi at midnight tonight was threatened by a strike of 4,000 employees of Central and Pennsylvania Greyhound Lines and affiliates. Federal conciliators met with union and company representatives in an effort to settle the dispute over a contract and wages.

A spokesman for the AFL Amalgamated Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach employees said the walkout would start at midnight if an agreement was not reached by then. He said drivers' wages had been reduced 7 1/2 cents an hour on Oct. 1. About 2,000 of the 4,000 employees are drivers.

Also ended today was a walkout of 2,500 CIO employees of the Timken Roller Bearing Co., in Columbus, O., who left their jobs 16 days ago in sympathy with striking employees at the Canton, O., plant. The workers at Canton have not returned.

China Will Send Troops To Manchuria

Chungking, Oct. 31.—(P)—Soviet and Chinese military authorities have agreed on arrangements for the landing of Chinese government troops in Manchuria, an official dispatch from Chungking reported today.

Discussion preceding the agreement was conducted in a most cordial atmosphere, the report said. Chiang Chin-Kuo, eldest son of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, participated in the conferences, it added.

Fighting continued meanwhile in northern China, and Gen. Yen Hsi-Shan, governor of Shansi province, asserted without confirmation today that 100,000 Chinese Reds were attacking the railroad junction of Tating in northern Shansi.

Yen said he was "70 per cent certain" that the Communists are being directed by Gen. Chu Teh, Communist commander in chief.

The Shansi governor claimed he had received reports while visiting here that "unidentified aircraft have been landing behind the Communist lines," but he refused to elaborate on the subject.

Tating is at the junction of the Peiping-Suiyuan and the Puchow railroads.

"Tating is in great danger," said Yen.

He said the city was being defended by 10,000 troops under his deputy commander, but he added that conditions had only ten field guns and no tanks.

Higher Shoe Prices Are In Prospect

Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—Higher prices for shoes became a warm issue today as rationing of all footwear ended.

Even as sales without coupons began, shoe manufacturers pressed with OPA officials a contention that rising production costs warranted a price increase.

Shoe rationing ended at 12:01 a. m. today.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles said about 28,000,000 pairs of ration-type shoes will be made this month, as compared with 20,000,000 pairs in August. He predicted production would be up to 28 or 29 million pairs in November and December, and said this would match pre-war demand.

"Trouble spots are bound to turn up," Bowles said, during the early days of ration-free buying. He added, however, that OPA and the War Production Board are convinced "that no general hardship (Turn to Page Nine)

Ships Rushing To Java Trouble Spot

By RALPH MORTON

Batavia, Java, Oct. 31.—(P)—All available British warships and aircraft were reported rushing today to Soerabaja, the Java trouble spot where British Brig. A. W. F. Mallaby was killed while arranging a truce with Indonesian Nationalists.

Lt. Gen. Sir Philip Christison, Allied commander in The Netherlands East Indies, notified the Nationalists in an ultimatum that further unprovoked native attacks upon British troops would be crushed with overpowering force.

The report of the dispatching of naval and air reinforcements to Soerabaja was circulated by The Netherlands News Agency, Aneta, which said the planes would be used to evacuate European women and children still held at the big naval base—the scene during the past few days of bitter clashes between British Indian and Indonesian Nationalist forces.

State Takes Over Highway At Columbus

Albert L. Sandberg, caretaker at Columbus for the State Highway Department and Highway officials here were notified Tuesday that the state has taken over the main route east from Columbus to Dewey's Corners for maintenance and possibly early reconstruction.

The road, one of the main links in the travel artery toward Bear Lake and Lottsville from Columbus township. At one time it was surfaced but each spring finds it badly rutted and it has been the subject of many complaints. Recently some patching has been done by the township supervisors. State Senator Chapman has considered the road as relative to this roadway and it is confidently expected that under the new road program for rural districts that it will be put on the program for reconstruction. The state is planning an immense rural construction program and Sen. Chapman stated today that he would insist on this road being placed on the program.

In the meantime the state having formally accepted the road will turn loose its crews and finish the work which was started by the township and much work will be done toward keeping it in better shape than heretofore.

Draft Board 2 Sends Men For Their Tests

The annual celebration of George's birthday will be held at the American Legion in the bingo rooms on November 7th, and the affair will begin promptly at eight o'clock. There will be prizes for everyone.

WILL BE TRANSFERRED

Adjutant Arthur Brandenburg, who has headed the work of the Salvation Army in a most efficient manner for some months past will be transferred to Oil City in the near future to head the work in that city. Adjutant Brandenburg will take the place of Major Arthur Wheatly, commander of the Salvation Army in Oil City for the past eight years. Major Wheatly will retire from his work in the army. It is with considerable regret that Warren will see Adjutant Brandenburg moved as he has been a most excellent officer here and has won the love and respect of a great number.

SHOE RATIONING OVER

Too late for a grand rush to the shoe stores last evening announcement was made that shoe rationing imposed during the war had been cancelled. Many who had been assured that rationing would end soon have during the past few days been buying shoes in order to get ahead of the rush which they anticipated. This has resulted in a number of the shoes having shoe sizes broken up and shoe shoppers may meet with a little difficulty during the next few weeks.

Recruiter Is Lions Speaker

Lieutenant Becker of the U. S. Army Recruiting Service spoke here Tuesday at the Lions Club luncheon. The Recruiting Service is headed by Brig. General Gilbert. Although men of different ages are being accepted and many service men are re-enlisting the aim is to interest those men between the ages of seventeen and twenty-one years. For years many people have believed that Army pay is very low, however, it has been figured that a private in the Army now receives the equivalent of $40 per week in civilian life when the cost of his food, clothing, medical and dental care is taken into consideration. This program also provides for an early retirement at half pay after twenty years of service.

Two members of the club—Glen Patchen and Allan Johnson, who have both recently received honorable discharges from the Army, were in attendance. George Brock, of Buffalo, and Fritz Ebel, of Warren, were guests at the meeting.

Dr. W. E. Biddle and William H. Walter of Warren State Hospital are in New York City to attend a meeting of the national committee for mental hygiene.

Local Defense Council Ends Work On Governor's Order

The Warren county defense council which functioned during the war years will close its books today on orders carried in a proclamation by Gov. Edward Martin.

The orders were received yesterday by Chairman Allan Gibson and the affairs of the Council will be concluded and all records and reports will be brought up to date. The order issued by Ralph Cooper Hutchison, executive director of the State Council of Defense is as follows:

"The State Council of Defense, created by Proclamation of Governor Arthur E. James, on April 17, 1941, will be dissolved by Proclamation of Governor Martin, on October 31, 1945.

"County and local councils of defense should be formally dissolved by Proclamation and Resolution of the executive officers or governing bodies of the political subdivisions, as provided for in Section 6 of the 'State Council of Defense Act,' approved March 19, 1941, P. L. 6, and an appropriate record thereof made upon the official minutes. It is suggested that the solicitor for the municipality be consulted in each case, so that a proper legal proclamation or resolution may be promulgated or adopted."

The Warren County Council as formed under the direction of Mr. Gibson was complete in every way and the choice of men over the county and in the borough to head the various departments was carefully done. All features of the program as outlined by the State Council were carried out in such a manner that commendations were frequent from the State leaders. In the state publication relative to the Defense work Warren county many times was held up as a model.

The control centers set up in towns of the county functioned well and in Warren Commander Forest Waite had what was often characterized as the "West Point of Pennsylvania Control Centers". Many visitors were brought to

Details For Big Parade Are Outlined

The kiddies' Halloween costume parade being held at North Warren on Saturday afternoon will form at the rear entrance to the State Hospital's main building, in the area between the greenhouse and old laundry building, instead of the front entrance as announced previously.

The action has been taken to shorten the line of march for the youngsters participating.

The parade will form at 2:30, and will move south on the hospital avenue to Jackson street, then east on Jackson street to State, and south on State street to the community house.

Everything is in readiness for the big North Warren Halloween carnival which opens tonight at 7:30 with a concert by the Struthers Wells Navy Band.

Warren from various points in the state to see the work of the local center. Other towns in the county also had efficient heads and groups.

The Salvage Division headed by Wylie T. Corbett was outstanding in its work and became one of the models for the state. The estimated value of the salvaged materials in this county was $602,000 and thousands of dollars were turned back to schools, the Red Cross, War Fund, Granges, church organizations, etc. Charitable organizations also benefited.

It was a job well done.

Fine Program For Blue Stocking Club

Mrs. Vance Weld entertained the Blue Stocking Club at her home in Pleasant township Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. W. R. Carlin assisting and Mrs. Robert Winger conducting the business session.

Miss Fannie Smith gave current events of interest, among them an article on the atomic bomb and President Truman's attitude toward its control. She also read a poem written in 1939 predicting its exact use. Another article had to do with the 5,551 conscientious objectors and of their treatment by those in charge. She also read a short article on Japanese Christians and their great desire to again build up their work in Japan.

Mrs. Florence Tillotson, who had the program for the afternoon, chose "Poetry" for her subject. Each member was given quotations by various authors on the value of poetry, these being read aloud. Mrs. Tillotson explained that all poetry should have three great elements, thought, imagination and emotion, and illustrated these elements with poems by Wadsworth, Longfellow, William Cullen Bryant and Edward Martin. She closed with three of her own poems, "Autumn Leaves," "Journey Onward" and "Golden Rule." She made her afternoon of poetry a very interesting and instructive one.

Concluding, tea was served, the table decorations and refreshments being in keeping with Halloween, and Mrs. Winger and Mrs. Ralph Stires presiding.

The next meeting will be on November 13, with Mrs. H. H. Barr and Mrs. Winger entertaining and the program in charge of Mrs. Brackett Ayers.

Martha E. Tarbox Bride On Tuesday

At seven o'clock Tuesday evening, October 30, Miss Martha E. Tarbox, daughter of Mrs. Philip S. Tarbox, Fourth avenue, became the bride of Thomas John White, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. White, of Dunmore. The ceremony was read by the Hon. Allison D. Wade.

The bride wore a dress of sapphire blue with black accessories, and a white orchid corsage. Attending her aunt was Mrs. Louise Tarbox, who wore a shell pink dress with a corsage of pink roses and white chrysanthemums.

Donald D. Dalrymple was best man.

The bride's mother was attired in black with a corsage of yellow roses, and the bridegroom's mother also wore black with a corsage of yellow roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the Woman's Club for the immediate families.

For travelling, Mrs. White chose a two piece wine suit. For a wedding trip, the couple are driving through New York state.

Both Mr. and Mrs. White are on terminal leave from the army, and have recently returned from two and one half years overseas.

Melvin Gnage Writes About Big Typhoon

Mrs. Melvin Gnage, Warren R.D. 1, has received word from her husband, in a letter dated October 12 from Naha, that he came safely through the typhoons in the Pacific area. He is serving as signalman third class aboard the SS Gainesville Victory, a Merchant Marine ship.

Excerpts from his letter state: "Our post office is gone and all our mail lost. We left Monday morning to get away from the typhoon. Got back to Naha last night and pulled in to anchor this morning. We missed most of it until Tuesday night, when it swung around and struck us dead to rights. The wind was over 90 miles an hour. I never thought a ship could take such a beating and still stay afloat. We lost two Liberties the first night. I sure wish I had a camera here. Naha is completely wrecked. There are ships sunk and on the beach all around us. There is one big navy tanker half on the beach with four army freighters piled on top of it. The beach is littered with small craft. There is a General Sherman 30-ton tank setting on a reef about one-fourth mile off shore. There must have been a lot of lives lost here at Naha and Buckner was hit worse yet. I just heard there are 20,000 homeless on the island. The typhoon season here is from June to November. Let's hope that was the last one."

IS PROMOTED

William Erickson, with the U. S. forces in Newfoundland, has been promoted to sergeant, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Erickson, Water street. Also with the forces in Newfoundland from Warren are Sgt. Thomas Masterson, and Sgt. Larry Matson. All three service men have spent more than three years at this northern base, and are looking forward to a transfer or discharge soon. All were employees of the Warren plant of the Bell Telephone Company before enlisting.

REMINDER TO CAR OWNERS

Secretary of Revenue David W. Harris, in a statement announcing the beginning Thursday of semi-annual inspection of motor vehicles, says that he regards this coming check-up period as "the most vital the Commonwealth has undertaken since this safety precaution was inaugurated 17 years ago."

Reminding car owners that the inspection period opens November 1, 1945 and ends January 31, 1946, Secretary Harris said:

"Most of the cars on the road today have just about reached the limit of endurance and new cars are still just a possibility. Old cars are a menace to safety and, to guard against accidents from mechanical defects, constant vigilance must be maintained.

"Because of the old car situation and the need for careful checkup, I regard this inspection period, beginning Thursday, as the most vital the Commonwealth has undertaken since this safety precaution was inaugurated 17 years ago. More than 2,000,000 cars must be inspected during the period if their owners desire to legally operate them.

"In the interest of safety, car owners and inspection stations must cooperate in making this coming check-up a thorough one. There can no longer be any excuse for hasty or careless inspections. With the war's end automotive parts are more available. Safe vehicles can be assured. Those that are unsafe must be removed from the road or traffic casualties, steadily increasing because of more driving, will become still heavier. Car owners can cooperate by having their vehicles inspected promptly; stations by making careful and honest inspections. It is all being done to protect the life and property of our citizens. With that in mind we must all work together."

EDUCATING THE JAPS

General MacArthur's educational directives to the Jap government are so enlightened that they might well be copied by schools in this country. Of especial interest is the MacArthur order to "remove all discrimination against any teacher, student or school official on the ground of race, nationality, creed, political opinion or school position.

This is an American ideal. It would be claiming too much to say that it has been fully attained here. But every American interested in education believes in it and is trying to put it into practice.

General MacArthur does not expect the Japs under his order to do better than Americans. But it will do the Japs good to have this ideal.

The General's order abroad can be useful at home if it arouses in Americans a desire to press more insistently toward the goal of a better educational system. When barriers of the type MacArthur mentions block the education of any American youth the principles this country professes are mocked.

WOMEN MARINES BAND COMING

Warren is to be signally honored tomorrow evening when the famous Women Marines Band, composed of fifty talented musicians, will play a free concert at the First Presbyterian church. As noted before "Stepping high and handsome to their own stirring music the Marines will leave the American Legion Home at 7:45 o'clock, escorted by the Legion Honor Guard." The band will march to the church where a free concert will be presented. It should be remembered that there is no admission to this attraction, and there will be no solicitation of Bond sales. Every person is welcome to attend and it is expected there will be a capacity audience. Better plan to be on hand early.

The committee has announced that this is the only official women's band in the Marine Corps—the band that played a leading part in celebrating the victorious return of Admiral Nimitz to Washington.

A hosiery manufacturer predicts every American woman can count on slightly less than eight pairs of full-fashioned hosiery next year. The gals will be glad to settle for seven pairs and some bobby socks.

The Japs have asked permission to import 120,000 tons of oil from the U. S. As far as we can see, things are running pretty smoothly right now.

An auto manufacturer says the new cars really are something to look at. And for some time to come, that's about all.

This is the night of witches, goblins and disappearing furniture. Better clear the porches of moveable objects.

HOW SMART ARE YOU?

Many smart, if you are one of the thousands of girls and women who have found blessed relief from "monthly grumps" in Chi-Ches-Ters Pills. Of course, they do not correct organic menstrual conditions that require consultation with your doctor. But they do help to relieve the discomfort of functional pains, cramps, headaches and nervousness that frequently accompany the normal menstrual period. Taken according to directions, preferably two or three days in advance of your time, Chi-Ches-Ters Pills tend to relax the muscular contraction that often causes the cause of unnecessary distress. An added iron ingredient helps promote resistance and energy. Before suffering again ask your druggist for Chi-Ches-Ters Pills, and accept no substitute. Caution: Use only as directed.

Beyond Tomorrow

By Helen R. Woodward

Chapter 18
JOHN LOWELL stood there for a long moment as if he were bewitched at the sight of Anne at the top of the stairway. He looked tired and travel-worn but the bitter look that he habitually wore was wiped away as if by magic, leaving him with a young and eager countenance.

Could she have known how she looked standing there, her hat in her hand, the light from the landing window making a halo about her soft golden hair, she might not have been so surprised at his next move. For he was coming swiftly up the stairway to her, his dark eyes filled with a look that made her heart catch in her throat. It was as if he was in the grip of an emotion that moved him without his own volition, that swept him on and up to heights beyond anything that he had ever hoped or dreamed.

"Anne!" he said softly, reaching out to her. "It really you, standing here at the top of my stairway as if—as if you really belonged here?"

With a sense of shock she found herself being enveloped in his long, being drawn surely into his arms. He held her close and kissed her as if at last he had found release from the torment that bound him.

Then she pushed him from her, her eyes wide with dismay—for she could not quite summon anger. "John!" she cried. "You shouldn't have done that! You know it! Oh, why did you?"

And now she saw the mask descending again over his face—saw the sardonic cynicism reach his eyes, his mouth resume its grim outlines. "Sorry!" he said with a mocking howl. "Will you forgive me for having forgotten myself, Anne? For not having remembered that at our last meeting you gave me a pretty clear impression of what you really think of me? Come, let me drive you back to town!"

"No," she cried with an insistence he could not deny. "I must prefer to walk. Please, you must let me!"

"If that's the way you feel about it," she stepped aside to let her pass him on the stair.

SHE fled down the stairway, across the shining floor of the lower hall and out the big front door. She reached the roadway and started in the direction of the bus stop. She had never been in such a turmoil of emotion. That John Lowell had held her in his arms was enough to shake her completely; but the knowledge that she had the power to change him from the hard, sarcastic, war-ravaged man she had come to know into someone young and eager and thrillingly alive, was a responsibility she did not care to entertain. He had spoken to her of his love in the office, but she thought bitterly now that he had had no right to let her see what he might become if she could return that love.

"It's not fair!" she was thinking as she walked along, entirely unconscious now of the beauty around her. "And I won't sink about it any more. I've simply got to erase the whole thing from my mind."

But this, she found, in the hours and days that followed was not as easy as she had imagined it would be. She found her thought returning to that scene on the stairway time after time. She kept seeing John Lowell with that enraptured look on his face, the years falling away leaving him revealed as the man he was meant to be. She had an ineffable sense of having viewed a transfiguration denied to other eyes.

She wrote long, ardent letters to Wayne and read the ones he sent her avidly, trying desperately to recapture the first fine rapture of their love. Then one day she met Carol King in the aisle of one of the department stores. Carol looked unusually gorgeous in a flowery summer frock and a wide brimmed black hat. Anne was surprised when Carol knew her, stopped to speak with her.

"How do you do, Miss Winslow," she cried gaily. "I've been quite a long time since I've seen you. By the way, I saw our mutual friend, Wayne McDowell, in Chicago recently. He asked to be remembered to you."

Anne felt her spine stiffen. A very old quotation she had often heard her father repeat came to her mind. "A false friend has honey in his mouth, gall in his heart." She wondered what Carol King was trying to accomplish.

"Really, Miss King," she replied, her eyes wide and innocent. "How nice of him to remember me!"

Carol's eyes narrowed. Evidently this was not the naive girl she had expected to encounter. She had been furious because Wayne had been cool toward her in Chicago, and though nothing had been said of it by either Wayne or his aunt, she had rather suspected that Anne Winslow had something to do with it. She was trying desperately now to find out. But when she went on her way a moment later, she was no wiser than before. If Anne had said, "I hear from Wayne every day," Carol would have known much better how to plan her campaign. But Anne gave her no such satisfaction and continued making her purchases with a pleased little chuckle rising in her throat.

Remembering her loneliness of the week before, Anne resolved not to spend the next week-end in town. "I'm going home," she determined. "What I need is a good dose of the farm and my own people!" She felt her spirits lifting at the thought of a long talk with her father and mother.

When she mentioned her desire to Mr. Farham he said, "I'm all for it, Anne. You need to get away from routine once in a while. Why don't you go Friday night instead of Saturday noon, and stay longer than Monday if you like. We'll try to manage without you."

Anne thanked him and decided to take the bus Friday night as he suggested. She found herself filled with anticipation and excitement as she dropped a card to her mother and made her preparations to go. It had been a long time since she had been home.

Jap Prisoner Speaks Here

Evelyn M. Witthoff, M. D., for 7 months a prisoner of the Japanese at Santo Tomas University in Manila, will speak at the First Church of the Nazarene at 2:30 p. m. Thursday, according to Pastor Gordon V. Woods. The public is invited.

Dr. Witthoff set sail for India as a missionary under appointment by the Church of the Nazarene with International Headquarters at Kansas City, Mo. With several other missionaries she landed in Manila about the time of the Pearl Harbor episode. She was forced to leave ship and lived in Manila during the month's siege until the city fell into the hands of the Japanese. At that time Dr. Witthoff was interned with many other missionaries and nationals at Santo Tomas Prison in Manila.

"During the last year our food ration was so reduced that we were on a starvation diet. I weighed 82 pounds when the Americans arrived, having lost 48 pounds," states Dr. Witthoff. She was liberated the 3rd of February, 1945, when American troops and tanks crashed through the defenses of Manila and released the prisoners. She sailed for the United States April 10 and arrived in Los Angeles May 2.

"I think I have had a thrilling life, but I do not remember anything quite as thrilling as the night our boys crashed through the walls of the camp with their tanks, and set us free," relates the missionary doctor.

SEEKS OPERATORS
The Coast Guard is looking for amateur radio operators to augment the existing communications system of the service for emergency purposes. Within the Coast Guard itself are about 400 amateurs who will be eligible to enroll in the Coast Guard Auxiliary when they return to civilian life. Other radio amateurs, whether veterans or civilians without military experience, are also sought as members of the auxiliary. The organization is purely voluntary and places no military responsibilities upon the members. Applications for membership in the auxiliary from this district are handled by Lt. Cmdr. Ray P. Gallivan, director, District Coast Guard Office, Keith Building, Cleveland, O.

A parachute-braking device has been employed on as large a military plane as the B-24. Tire chains reduce braking distances from 40 to 50 per cent on winter roads.

Tire Outlook Still Gloomy Says Inspector

A special meeting of the tire panels of the Local War Price and Rationing Board was held October 30th, at which time Mr. Fuchs, District Tire Rationing executive, of the Pittsburgh District office, presented the true tire picture as of today. He was accompanied by Mr. McCarthy, District Tire Dealer Inspector.

The occasion for the meeting is the erroneous impression the motorist has today that tire rationing will be off soon, or at least by Jan. 1st. The newspapers and the radio have encouraged this. A large increase in tire applications is the result.

In instructing the Board, Mr. Fuchs stated that in the following teletype the national office again brings home the extreme seriousness of the tire rationing program and the immediate need for taking additional steps to insure a sound rationing program from here on in. "A somewhat discouraging tire rationing quota for the immediate future prompts us to send the following instructions for the administration of the tire rationing program. Tire quotas have not been increased to the extent hoped for. There will be no passenger tire quota increase for October and November passenger tire and large truck tire quotas must be held to the same level as October. Small truck tire quotas will be cut 150,000 units. Tire production reports indicate that tire rationing must be maintained "until Jan. 1st, or later." With the latest strike at Firestone Tire Co., with its former 4000 tire per day production, it is impossible to estimate when a person may be able to purchase a tire without a certificate. Meanwhile the local boards are to continue issuing tire certificates subject to eligibility and quota.

Helmer Danielsons Have Anniversary

On Saturday evening, October 27, about 50 relatives and friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Danielson, Wrightsville, to celebrate with them their 25th wedding anniversary.

Miss Hazel Young, Jamestown, N. Y., led in devotional and prayer. Miss Violet Young sang a solo, "O Happy Home", accompanied by Mrs. Albert Sandberg. Ed Austin then presented the honored guests with a gift of money. Later there was more singing of familiar hymns.

Lunch was served cafeteria style with candles lighting the table and bouquets of chrysanthemums used in decorations. These were repeated in the corsage made by Miss Florence Carlson and worn by Mrs. Danielson. In the table's center was a huge three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The occasion was also a joyous one because of the presence of two returned soldiers, recently discharged from the army. They were Elliott Danielson and Floyd Melquist.

At a late hour guests left with best wishes for the best of health, happiness and a long life side by side. Those attending came from Erie, Jamestown, Presburg, Lakewood, Falconer, Youngsville, Columbus, Lottsville, Miles Run, Lind Hill and Wrightsville.

Indiana Students Will Give Program

Harry Summers, chairman of the program committee, announced that students from Indiana State Teachers College will provide the program for the November meeting of Warren School Music Boosters Club, to be held at 7:45 p. m. next Tuesday at the will be both vocal and instrumental selections, the names of students and their numbers to be announced later.

Members of the organization are reminded this is the first meeting to be held on the first Tuesday of the month, the change in meeting date having been voted at the October business session because of conflict with other school activities.

All parents having students in vocal or instrumental groups of the public school music department are invited and urged to attend Boosters' meeting. A similar invitation is extended to the students themselves and to all friends interested in fine music and promotion of the school music program.

Local Girl Bride Of Veteran Gunner

Mrs. Stella Saylor, Pleasant township, announces the marriage of her daughter, Margaret Ann, to John A. Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hill, Los Angeles, Calif. The ceremony took place in Hollywood, Calif., on October 1. Attendees were the bride's cousin and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hummerich, also formerly of Warren.

The bride is well known in the community, having been employed for the past two years in The Nut Shop.

Mr. Hill, veteran of World War I, was one of the first gunners on a B-29 to come back a hero.

The couple are residing at 5001 Melrose avenue, Hollywood.

Maine Girl Will Wed Local Officer

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fogg Lougee, of Limerick, Me., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Alice Jane Lougee, to Lt. Edward A. Langhans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Langhans, 16 Crescent Park, Warren.

Miss Lougee attended Los Arcos School for Girls, Phoenix, Ariz.; Peace Junior College, Raleigh, N. C. and was graduated last June from St. Anne's, Charlottesville, Va. She is now a freshman at Bennington College, Bennington, Vt.

Lt. Langhans, who is a member of the Army Air Corps, has seen service in France, Belgium and Germany, and is now in this country on rest leave.

No date for the wedding has been set.

Will Teach English

To help meet the American army's great need for interpreters in Japan, the YMCA of Tokyo has reopened its English Language School, according to information relayed from Japan to Ralph Wagner, general secretary of the local association. Already serving as interpreters are many of this school's pre-war students. Throughout the war all the movements and writings of the Japanese "Y" leaders were under constant surveillance of the secret police. Their work was confined largely to relief for air raid victims, but they successfully resisted strong government pressure to drop the word "Christian" from the association's name. The Tokyo "Y" has now resumed several activities, including forums on world affairs, designed to give Japanese youth a Christian world outlook and to help construct a new Japan. Special attention will be given to the spiritual and physical regeneration of the thousands of youth now returning home from the battlefields and factories. No word has been received, as yet, as to the status of associations in other cities, except that several buildings were completely destroyed.

American troops will be invited to use the swimming pool and gymnasium in Tokyo as soon as air raid damages have been repaired. Established 56 years ago through the help of the North American YMCA's World Service Program, the Japanese "Y" movement, in its subsequent growth to 183 local associations, had constant American and Canadian "Y" cooperation until the attack on Pearl Harbor. One North American YMCA representative, Russell L. Durgin, is now on his way back to Japan, temporarily allocated to the U. S. State Department as an advisor to its delegation there.

Directs Women Marines' Band

Music in the interest of the Victory Loan drive comes to Warren tomorrow evening, when the Women Marines' Band presents a concert in the Presbyterian church through the auspices of the War Finance Committee. Shown from left to right are: Master Sergeant Charlotte Plummer, band director; Private First Class Jean Mikkelson, soloist and clarinet player, and Sergeant Rhoda Andersen, drummer.

Master Technical Sergeant Charlotte Plummer of Eugene, Oregon directs the Women Marines' Band which will present a most colorful and melodious concert tomorrow evening before 1800 Warren County men and women who will fill the combined auditoriums of the First Presbyterian church for a mighty Victory Loan concert. This versatile and talented group of musicians has such an extensive repertoire of concert numbers that they select and present different programs at each of their appearances which probably total sixty or more during the month of November.

Don Smith in charge of tomorrow's concert which begins promptly at 8:30 p. m. states that the program will include a well balanced selection of popular and classical concert numbers.

Private First Class Jean Mikkelson is good on the clarinet, but everyone who sees the band perform remembers her as the tall, glamorous vocalist. Jean regularly holds down both positions and will demonstrate her versatility in the concert tomorrow night which is sponsored by the Warren County War Finance Committee.

War Finance is most interested in the voice work and plans to study opera when she is released from the service. Before she joined the Marines, Jean studied music at MacPhail College of Music in Minneapolis, her hometown. She sang with the St. Paul Civic Opera Company and in the Summer Symphony Pop Concerts in St. Paul.

Tall and terrific, Sergeant Rhoda Andersen of San Leandro, California really beats it out on the drums while playing with the Women Marines' Band.

Although Rhoda is noted for her energy and ability with the drums, she admits that at one time they got away from her. Determined not to let them get away again, she hit them so hard she broke the drum stick. Travelling is the drummer's favorite hobby so being a member of the Band enables her to combine business and pleasure.

Sergeant Mary Corlett, bass player in the Band, caused some unscheduled excitement during the last tour through Pennsylvania. Billed in a sixth floor room of a Harrisburg hotel, Mary became tired waiting for the elevator, walked to the nearest fire exit, opened the door, and marched gallily down the six flights humming the Marine Hymn. As she reached the line, "You'll find the streets guarded by..." she opened the ground floor door and found the local fire department had given a new twist to the famous song. Standing there to greet her were twenty firemen and the street was lined with engines. Mary had set off the alarm when she opened the fire exit door.

Plan now to attend and enjoy the splendid concert which these vivacious girls will bring to Warren tomorrow night. The concert is free to all and no bonds will be sold at the church. But the committee urges everyone to buy their bonds early so we may tell our returning service men and women that we too finished our job. Money is urgently needed to pay hospital costs, transportation costs to bring the boys home, and to provide funds to insure the peace. We can express our gratitude by making this the greatest drive of all.

Forty-one members of Girl Scout Troop 61 and Brownie Troop 43 enjoyed a Halloween gathering last evening at the home of Mary Fowler, Beatty street. Mary Alice Clark, new field secretary, was a guest.

For the entertainment, the girls dramatized the seven days of Girl Scout Week; had outdoor games; heard a Halloween story told by Mrs. T. R. Sponsler, and then drew pictures in illustration of the tale. A trip through the Witch's Cave was another highlight of the program. The girls made their own costumes from paper, a task requiring ingenuity and effort on the part of many.

Assisting the girls with their plans were the Brownie leader, Mrs. Marcel Frigant, and her assistant, Mrs. Francis Cogswell; the Scout leader, Mrs. Harold Stohl, with Mrs. Sponsler and Mrs. Carl Barker as aides.

Among the girls present were four new members, Mary Louise Gernonito and Virginia Hober, Brownies, and Roseann Gernonito and Rachel Wood, Scouts, all from the Hoffman Home.

It is learned that the two troops have plans will under way for a birthday party and tea for their mothers at Johnson school on November 13.

Vitamins, If Needed Are More Valuable Than Diamonds

By MULLEN DRUG CO.

You may be one of those fortunate people who have no need for extra Vitamins. Your diet is so balanced, your assimilation of foods is so perfect that you need no more.

The chances are, however, that you do need additional Vitamins. If so, they are worth more to you than priceless gems.

They are simple and easy to take, readily available, the best are the least expensive and when needed are worth their weight in diamonds. They restore to your system the minerals and salts which the strain of modern living condition may have wasted without you knowing it.

If your doctor has not recommended a certain label, ask reputable druggist to suggest the Vitamins.

One of the features of the October meeting of East street PTA, held at the school on Monday evening, was a comprehensive report of the regional PTA conference held here on October 3. Reports of officers and committee heads included announcement there will be a paper collection on the Tuesday following each regular meeting date; also that Mrs. Charles Eggleston is chairman for this project. Mrs. Douglas Kropf and Mrs. H. R. Robertson will be the committee for a rummage sale to be held on November 9-10.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. R. F. Otterbein, who presented little Patty Larson in two beautiful vocal numbers. Her accompaniment at the piano was played by her teacher, Mrs. Betty Smith. Special speaker for this month was Burgess R. W. Steber, whose talk on "How a Town Is Run" contained much that was both interesting and amusing. Banners awarded for the month went to rooms taught by Miss Boyd and Miss Holt for no tardiness and to Miss Boyd's room for attendance.

At the close of the meeting and program, a real treat was provided through refreshments in keeping with the Halloween spirit. Mrs. Taft having charge of this portion of the entertainment.

Survey Shows 87% of College Athletes Have Outstanding Record During World War II

Chicago, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The nation's college athletes, the Athletic Institute said, have made "an outstanding record in service to their country in World War II."

President Ted P. Bank of the institute said of data asked of 380 colleges, replies were returned by 98 on the students who had competed in football, basketball, track and baseball.

It showed that of 10,742 football lettermen listed, 87.7 per cent were in service when the survey was instituted last spring, 65.8 per cent won commissions; 69.4 per cent saw overseas service and 45.4 per cent were in combat service.

Of the 3,810 basketball players of the 98 colleges that answered questionnaires, 85.2 per cent were in service, with 74.7 per cent commissioned, 64.2 per cent overseas and 52.5 per cent in combat duty.

The basketball players had the best record of all college athletes.

Among other reporting college athletic departments, track and field had 8,164 lettermen, with 80.6 per cent in service; 67.1 per cent holding commissions, 60.8 per cent overseas and 46.1 per cent in combat service. Of 3,842 baseball lettermen reported, 85.4 per cent were in service, 65.5 per cent won commissions, 64.4 per cent were in overseas duty, and 47.3 per cent were in combat service.

The survey said that deferment for physical disabilities was 3 to 4 per cent, termed exceptionally low compared with the over 40 per cent figure for the entire country. The essential industry percentages in sports classifications ranged from 3.8 to 9.6 per cent and were made up largely of lettermen who were engaged in engineering and other technical courses, many of whom

Chicago, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Baseball players of possible major league calibre and carrying price tags ranging up to $7,500 will be practically a dime a dozen here tomorrow.

That will be when major league managers and owners meet for the annual player draft at the baseball commissioner's office. There are 5,434 of them listed from among the nation's minor leagues, all of them eligible for the big league draft.

The Philadelphia Athletics, American League talenders, will have first choice in this year's draft. The Phillies, who finished last in the National League, will be second. The Athletics can choose any player among 5,434 minor leaguers they wish.

BEHIND THE LINES

WINTER SPORTS

Although the war memorial is the most outstanding topic in the local sports world today, now is also the time to think of some of the winter sports which are making their way through into the picture.

Basketball comes in the month of November and in all probability you realize that tomorrow starts the month off with a bang. Already, Joseph A. Massa, the head basketball man at Warren High, has begun getting a line on his season's candidates and prospects. This year's crop of courtmasters will be one of the largest ever produced at the school because of the large number of players who have had previous H. S. cage experience. Massa, with his first game scheduled for November 30 against Youngsville, hopes to get underway with some of his boys within two weeks and follow up with tryouts for new candidates immediately after the close of football season November 9.

A new asphalt tile floor is being laid at the YMCA, delaying initial league plans there, but the job will soon be finished and the word sent out for prospects of cage leagues there. Lloyd Shirk, program secretary there, expects a possibility of two leagues, due to the increased number of returning servicemen. Already several teams have signified loop interests.

Also on the prospective winter sports program are additional swimming classes at the Y, opening of men's volleyball leagues again this season, and a host of others.

As for ice skating, a stumbling block enters the picture. Possibly the concrete court at Beatty school can be flooded and frozen and, of course, there are the ponds in Pleasant township.

HERE AND THERE

Lt. Commander Charley Gelbert, one-time St. Louis Cardinal shortstop, has signed as baseball coach at Lafayette College. . . Tom Juliano, who paired at forward with Joe Scallise on last year's championship Warren High cage squad, is home on furlough. Scallise is still convalescing in Texas. . . Vin Gray, also of last year's team, has taken up boxing and has won two out of three matches. . . Northern District Nine officials and coaches will meet tomorrow night in Bradford's St. Bernard Auditorium at eight o'clock. . . Red Johnson, who will coach the Shenango Valley All-Stars when they tangle with the Allegheny Stars, also coached the Sharpsville court five last year that defeated the locals in the District Ten playoff. . . Homer Fleming, former mat coach and physical instructor at Beatty Junior High, is now teaching phys. ed. at Belmont, N. Y. High.

Quaker Guard Top Lineman Of the Week

New York, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Penn lost the game to Navy but Joe Dickerson, a Quaker guard, showed enough ability to be named the Associated Press "Lineman of the Week" for his brilliant defensive play.

Recovering four of seven Middle fumbles and disrupting Navy play by frequent sorties into their backfield, Dickerson was one of the chief reasons why the Midshipmen had to take to the air to win in the last 25 seconds.

Ray Crowley, assistant Penn coach, who ran the club because of the illness of boss George Munger, said "Joe was in virtually every play and really bowled over those Navy players. I didn't realize how terrific he was until I saw the movies."

Dickerson, a 25-year-old junior from Philadelphia, was the third successive guard to be named the standout lineman of the week. Tom Hughes of Purdue and Warren Ambling of Ohio State, had preceded him.

Other players nominated included: Ends—Bob Sponaugle, Penn; tackles—Mike Jarmoluk, Temple; Guards—George Walitzer, Temple; Jim Cregar, Holy Cross.

Sharpville Mentor Heads Shenango Men

COACH BOB JOHNSTON

Oil City, Oct. 31.—Bob Johnston, head athletic coach at Sharpville high school for the past 13 years and one of the district's leading grid mentors, will coach the Shenango Valley all-star gridriders in the first annual "Fight for Sight" benefit game to be played in Oil City on Friday night, November 16.

The Shenango Valley pigskinners, comprising the cream of the crop of football players from Sharon, Mercer, Greenville, Farrell, Hickory township, Sharpville and Grove City, will meet the Allegheny Valley all-stars.

The eleven will be recruited from players who started during the past season for Oil City, Franklin, Titusville, Warren, Bradford, Emletton and Meadville high schools.

Coach Joe Connors of Oil City will serve as mentor of the Allegheny Valley team. His associates will be the coaches from the other six schools.

Baugh, Hutson Star In Pro Grid League

By JERRY LISKA

Chicago, Oct. 31.—(AP)—It's fortunate for the National Football League generally that Washington's slugger Sammy Baugh and Green Bay's sticky-fingered Don Hutson are not on the same team.

As the Packers trimmed the Chicago Cardinals last Sunday, the oft "retired," but never benched Hutson increased his scoring and pass receiving leads. Green Bay's phantom tallied 21 points for a total of 70, while seven more catches boosted his five-game bag to 29.

Baugh, on the other hand, connected 20 times in 24 pass attempts as Washington downed the

Joe McCarthy Will Manage Yanks In '46

By JACK HAND

New York, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Joe McCarthy isn't ready to step out of baseball yet and is looking forward to the next spring training season as one of his most interesting adventures.

Marse Joe came out of a three-hour huddle with President Larry MacPhail yesterday to announce that the New York Yankees will have two conditioning camps at St. Petersburg and Bradenton for the first time in history.

"I hope to manage the Yanks for the next 10 years if my health holds out" commented McCarthy, who must make a flock of decisions before February.

Joe Di Maggio, Tommy Henrich, Phil Rizzuto, Charley Keller, Spud Chandler, Aaron Robinson, and Red Ruffing already have returned from the wars and many more like Joe Gordon, Bill Dickey, Bill Johnson, Buddy Hassett and Johnny Sturn are expected before another season.

Player personnel won't be the only change at the Yankee Stadium next year where lights for night ball will be installed. The right field bleachers will be roofed and a double-decked stand will increase the seating capacity to about 75,000.

Big Field Seen As Small Game Opening Nears

The first post war small game hunting season will officially get under way at 9 a. m. Thursday and members of the game commission force throughout the section are looking forward to a bumper field of nimrods for the first day shoot.

Game Supervisor Hayes T. Engler predicts that the sportmen will find ringneck pheasants, quail and grouse fairly plentiful, but he failed to give the rabbit hunters much encouragement.

The supervisor said that rabbits are not so plentiful. Asked whether he meant that rabbits are more scarce than last year, he said that the rabbit situation is worse than last year when there were few rabbits to be found.

The cold, rainy summer season was blamed by the supervisor as the major reason for the scarcity of rabbits and he said that preda-

Hallowe'en Celebrators Keep Coppers Busy Over the City

Police last night were busy answering calls relative to Hallowe'en celebrators. Most of the pranks were harmless such as ringing doorbells, etc., but there were a few instances where the coppers itched to get their hands on some of the lads. One of these was a group of lads cruising about town in a coupe which they stopped at various places long enough to smash a few light bulbs in street lights. Boys old enough to operate cars are old enough to feel the full force of the law. It is to be hoped that police will run down this group and make examples of them. Most of the depredations are done by older boys and girls and Chief of Police Hahn has issued orders to "bring them in."

A box car filled with blankets and the door invitingly open was found by police on a check of the New York Central yards last night and the railroad officials notified.

A small auto accident took place at 1:30 this morning when the car of John Eldredge, 318 Union street and one driven by Joseph Grotzinger came together at Water and Third streets. Damage done to the cars was considerable.

Agents Will Go To Corry

The November meeting of the Purchasing Agents Association of Northwestern Pennsylvania will be held Thursday evening in the Hotel Corry, with the business session preceded by a 6:30 dinner.

The main speaker for the evening will be Gordon Benedict, regional manager of industrial relations for General Motors. His subject will be "General Motors—Before and After the War." He will give something on the pre-war history of General Motors and will deal with reconversion problems in the industry. He will also attempt a forecast of the future in his field.

Commodity discussions on lumber and coal will be presented, and National Director McCullough will give a report on the happenings at the Sixth District meeting which was held at Columbus, Ohio, in October.

All members are urged to be present.

ASK ARTICLES FOR NEEDLEWORK GUIDE

Directors of Warren Branch, Needlework Guild, report that many members have not yet turned in their articles for the Needlework Collection to be held on Friday at the Woman's Club. This must be done immediately if the items are to be included in this year's gathering. For those who have not yet made their purchases, it is suggested that articles most needed are infants' wear of all types, and children's things, both boys' and girls', for ages from two to twelve years.

Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Knapp and daughter, Dorothy, of Sagertown, were in town on a business trip yesterday and today and took opportunity of greeting many friends.

Personal Paragraphs

Paul Zahransky, 35 Locust street, was treated at Warren General Hospital Tuesday after he had received a puncture wound in his left leg when he was struck by a piece of waste steel at the Hammond plant. He was discharged after the injury had been dressed.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Franks, Poplar street, were returned from Denver, Colo., where they were called by the death of their sister, Mrs. L. J. Funderburg, whose death resulted from injuries received in an automobile accident.

Bert Levinson, of the Betty Lee Shop has been in New York for the past few days on a buying trip and in spite of tight markets wires home that he has secured a selection of fine garments of various kinds.

William Servelli, 802 Pennsylvania avenue, east, was x-rayed at Warren General Hospital yesterday and it was found he had fractured his left wrist when he slammed a cellar door on his arm. A cast was applied and he was discharged.

Plummer Wilson, of Kelleltville, was brought to Warren General Hospital Tuesday for x-rays after he had been injured while at work for the Endeavor Lumber Company. A log rolled upon his left leg, but no fracture was disclosed.

The many friends of Mrs. Mildred Berdine will be pleased to learn that she is getting along satisfactorily following an operation at the Buffalo General Hospital.

Mrs. Grace Dana, Jamestown, N. Y., and Mrs. A. H. Lofgren, of Bemus Point, N. Y., spent Tuesday in Warren as guests of Mrs. H. G. Shirley.

To Make it Easy for Vets to Purchase Surplus Materials

Veterans will find it less difficult to obtain surplus government property it was announced yesterday by the Surplus Property Administration.

Changes in existing regulations were worked out with representatives of veterans organizations so that service men may obtain the benefits which Congress intended. They make it possible for a veteran to buy directly from the government under terms as favorable as any large buyer. It eliminates many obstacles which many service men found objectionable. W. S. Hug, Erie District Manager of the Smaller War Plants Corporation said.

The changes are effective beginning October 15 and will:

1. Eliminate the $2,500 limit purchase, though minimum and maximum limits will be set by the SWPC in collaboration with the disposal agencies and with the approval of the Administrator.

2. Allow the veteran entering retail business to buy an initial stock of goods for resale to the public.

3. Allow the veteran to deal directly with disposal agencies after certification by Smaller War Plants Corporation at the lowest price at which such property is sold. He may have SWPC act as his agent but he is not required to do this.

4. Permit the veteran to buy automotive or other equipment which is required by his employment.

5. Provide that credit may be extended to the veteran under terms and conditions established by the agency which sells the goods.

6. Give veterans rights to surplus property to ex-service members who have been released from active service though not technically discharged.

With one exception noted in paragraph 4 in order to qualify as a purchaser of government surplus property, the veteran must be establishing or maintaining his "own" small business, professional or agricultural enterprise, and must be certified by the SWPC. SWPC reviews all veteran's applications and can serve as a buying agent for the veteran. However, under the new regulation upon receipt of his certificate from SWPC the veteran can buy direct from any designated disposal agency that has available and handles for sale the types of property desired. Surplus real estate, industrial plants, shipyards and facilities, and surplus Marine vessels under Maritime Commission control, do not come under the scope of the new regulation.

Surplus property can be purchased by the veteran on the same commercial credit terms and conditions that are afforded to various trades and trade levels. Veterans will be able to purchase surplus property at the lowest price offered at any trade level.

As heretofore the Department of Agriculture will assist the SWPC in reviewing applications of veterans for property for agricultural purposes.

The new regulation allows the purchase of one initial stock of goods for resale. The amount of this stock is limited to what is customarily regarded as appropriate trade procedure.

Under the terms of the revised Regulation 2, the SWPC advises the disposal agencies as to the reserves of property necessary to meet the requirements of veterans.

The Surplus Property Administrator pointed out that disposal of surplus property to veterans still remains a business operation designed for a broad distribution of government surplus property and to help maintain a sound business structure. The law does not provide a preference for personal use but only for business, professional and agricultural enterprises.

In order that the Smaller War Plants Corporation can facilitate veterans' requests and minimize the time for attending to these requests, the veteran is urged to contact Mr. J. Benson, Director of Veteran's Affairs, 304 Bank and Trust Building, Warren, Pennsylvania, who is acting as Liaison between the veteran and this Corporation and who will arrange a time and meeting for the veteran to meet the SWPC Field Engineer, Mr. J. R. Paulson.

Ex-Chaplain To Speak For Social Science

"When Gill Comes Home" is the topic chosen by Rev. Edward K. Rogers, returned army chaplain, for the first meeting of the Social Science Section, Warren Academy of Sciences, to be held at the Woman's Club at eight o'clock Saturday evening.

Hosts for this November meeting are W. T. McCausland, Warren R. Miller, Peter E. Nelson, Ralph Owens, Dr. Hugh Robertson and Rev. Rogers.

The following schedule outlined for the coming season offers many fine programs for the section's membership:

December 1—Socialized Medicine, Dr. Carl Ridsdølperger. Hosts, Rev. Beecher Rutledge, John G. Rossman, M. F. Saunders, Rev. S. R. Schieb, Chester Seymour, E. W. Smiley and Martin H. Smith.

January 5—The Future of an Aging Population, Nelson A. Johnson, Warren State Hospital. Hosts, J. E. Springer, John H. Stewart, Judge Allison D. Wade, Ralph Wagner, James A. Waite, Phoebe Wedelboe.

February 2—The Riddle of Russia, Leo Gleese, Struthers-Wells Corporation. Hosts, Robert Whitehill, C. C. Winans, Robert R.

Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The other day a big, quiet-spoken, ruddy-faced "bureaucrat" packed his bags in his suite at the Mayflower hotel and left Washington and the government after more than 11 years.

He was Leo Thomas Crowley, just about the champion dollar-a-year man. Crowley hasn't drawn any federal salary for six years although he held numerous jobs for which salaries were appropriated.

As this "bureaucrat" departed, both Democratic and Republican leaders rose in the senate to pay tribute to "his worth, his ability, his sagacity, and his fearlessness" as a public servant. It was a tribute rarely paid an appointive official by men of both parties.

MOST people think of Crowley (if they think of him at all, for he certainly never advertised himself or his jobs) as the man who stepped into several of Jesse Jones' shoes; or perhaps as the alien property custodian.

His work in the latter job as a sort of combination J. Edgar Hoover, international banker, national office and director of numerous businesses would furnish material for a volume or two.

But the truth is that his first, last and only love was the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC).

When FDIC was set up by Congress in 1934, even its backers admitted it was an experiment. Even President Roosevelt was a degree less than lukewarm, but that didn't keep him from looking around for a good man to become chairman of the new corporation. He found him in Madison, Wis., where Crowley was one of the town's leading citizens and on the board of many banks and corporations. Incidentally he was a prominent Democrat.

Crowley accepted the job with the idea of at least getting the infant measure to the walking stage. When he left the government the other day, he was able to report:

"Today (covered by FDIC) there are 60,000,000 insured accounts and as of June 30, 1945, the corporation will have built up capital and surplus amounting to $1,000,000,000. We are proud of this record; particularly of the fact that after 11½ years of deposit insurance protection, FDIC could liquidate today, reimburse the government the money it invested plus a dividend of 22 per cent and return every penny of the assessments the banks paid to the corporation."

Crowley started his business career at the age of 12 as a grocery clerk. When he graduated from college nine years later, he owned the grocery.

IT WAS typical of Crowley's indifference to public opinion, and his deep certainty of his own integrity, that in 1939 he accepted chairmanship of the Standard Gas and Electric Co., at $50,000 a year, without giving up his government post.

As Sen. Wagner pointed out, whenever the committee on banking and currency found out Crowley was for a piece of legislation, the members would be "75 per cent in favor of it even before hearings were held."
